Straith Scores Kiernan Tactics In Milk Debate

Use of Telegrams Termed
'Mean, Miserable, Unfair'

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan was charged by Liberal whip W. T. Straith in the Legislature Wednesday with using "mean, miserable and unfair" tactics in a debate on decontrol of milk prices.

WHAT WAS WRONG?

FARRIS SAYS SON IN MILK BUSINESS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senator J. W. de B. Farris today said Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan "must be hard put for arguments" when he disclosed a 14-month-old telegram dealing with a milk decontrol protest.

Documents were filed by Mr. Kiernan in the Legislature Wednesday purporting to show that the previous Liberal government scrapped plans to decontrol milk prices after protests from Senator Farris.

The telegram produced by Mr. Kiernan quoted Senator Farris as saying he had a "large personal interest in the matter."

In a statement here, Senator Farris said: "My personal interest at that time, January, 1952, was that my son was in the milk business. I wired a protest of the milk board's order and asked for an opportunity to be heard before the order was ratified."

"What was wrong with that I do not know. Kiernan must be hard put for arguments."

St. Laurent to Visit Washington May 7-9

U.K. Chancellor Arrived in Ottawa Today
To Inform Canadian Government on Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada is planning an official visit to Washington May 7-9 to discuss "matters of mutual interest," it was learned today.

Authorities look for a general review of current matters of concern to Canada, such as the St. Lawrence River seawater power development and the future course of U.S. trade and foreign policies.

BUTLER ARRIVES

OTTAWA (BUP)—Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, arrived today for a two-day round of conferences with Finance Minister D. C. Abbott on long-range plans to make international trade flow more easily across the Atlantic.

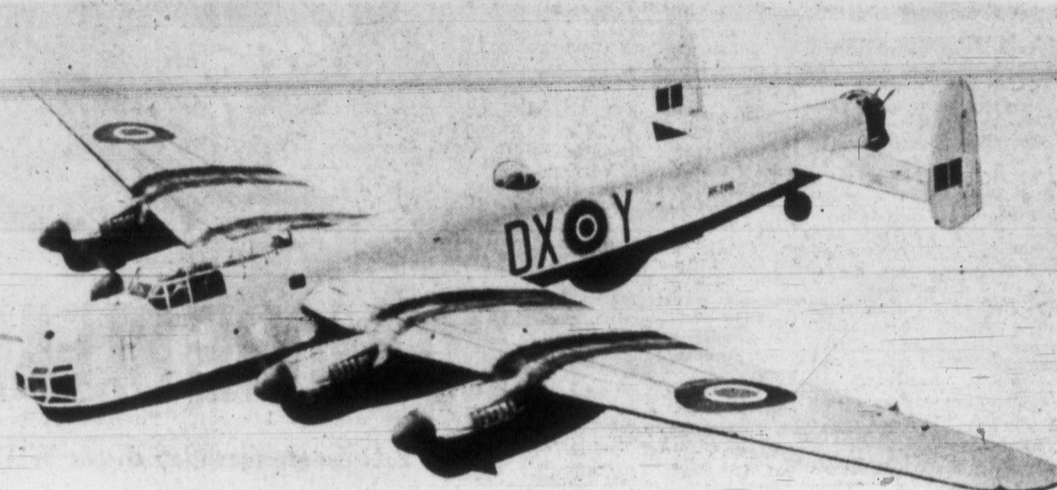

Abbott greeted Butler at Rockcliffe airport and conferred with him later in the day.

Butler's schedule also called for high-level conferences with Abbott again and with Trade Minister C. D. Howe.

The chancellor, fresh from conferences with U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, George M. Humphrey and other Washington officials, was expected to bring the Canadian government up to date on plans launched last January in London to ease currency and trade restrictions.

The plans were described by government officials as part of a long-range project which may have no dramatic turn to them for another six months or more.

There were expectations, however, that some easing of trade and currency restrictions might be made during the summer.

Propeller-Driven Lincoln No Match for Soviet Jets

Plane pictured above is RAF Lincoln similar to that shot down by new Soviet jet fighters over West Germany. Although tiny jet interceptor force in Western Europe will be bolstered soon with 150 of fastest F-86 Sabre fighters yet developed, force has no immediate prospect of matching numbers of Russian fighters on frontier. New type are F-86F's now in RCAF units. Mounting six .50-calibre guns and carrying 16 five-inch rockets, they outspeed models now downing MIGs in Korea at rate of 11 to 1.

RED CROSS TOTAL $24,994 AND 300 PINTS

According to Red Cross officials today, Victorians are taking their annual firm stand behind the Red Cross efforts.

The Red Cross fund campaign total is almost 35 per cent complete with $24,994 donated at noon today, and a rush of donors last night brought the day's total to almost 300 pints.

The mobile blood clinic seeks 500 pints more at HMC Dockyard today and Friday.

800 Strike On Trail Dam Job

$30,000,000
Project Delayed

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—A sympathy strike of 800 workers on the $30,000,000 Wanaconda dam project was called today as pickets patrolled the big construction job.

The walkout was ordered following failure to settle a dispute of 300 workers on the $9,000,000 fertilizer plant at Kimberley.

Both projects are under construction by contractors Stone & Webster for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Ltd. of Canada.

A 12-man maintenance crew was permitted through picket lines at Wanaconda to keep electric pumps in operation. The pumps keep water from leaking into coffer dams.

PICKET OFFICES

Hundreds of men milled around the offices at the Wanaconda dam and pickets carried placards reading "Stone-Webster unfair to labor."

The workers at Kimberley project struck in a dispute over interpretation of a contract clause relating to travel time and return fares to hiring points.

A spokesman for Stone & Webster termed the strike "illegal" and said negotiations will not be reopened until the men return to work. The contractors asked the B.C. Labor Board to order the men back to work.

Five AFL building trade unions are involved.

1,000 HEAR INSURANCE CHARGE

Paid $100-$200 to Fines During Regina Car Ride, Ex-Agent Says

REGINA (CP)—J. O. Rawluk, former agent for the Saskatchewan government insurance office, told the legislative crown corporations committee Wednesday night that he paid $100 to $200 to Provincial Treasurer Fines during a car ride in Regina in 1951.

An affidavit sworn by Mr. Rawluk last May alleges that Mr. Fines and M. F. Allure, general manager of the Saskatchewan government insurance office, were paid a share of the commissions on insurance business directed through Mr. Rawluk's firm by Mr. Allure. It claims they also received other sums of money from the firm, Financial Agencies Ltd.

About 1,000 spectators filled the legislative assembly chamber for the second night of the hearing, likely to last a week or more.

Mr. Fines and Mr. Allure have denied charges made against them in the affidavit and Mr. Rawluk has reiterated them.

Mr. Rawluk, under questioning by E. C. Leslie, counsel for the committee, related a 1951 ride in Mr. Fines' car.

Mr. Leslie: Where did you have the money?

Mr. Rawluk: In my briefcase in an envelope.

Mr. Leslie: What was the conversation?

Mr. Rawluk: Very simple. I said "Hello" and he said "Hello." He asked me how far I was going. I said I was going to the office in Westman Chambers. I got to the corridor. That just about covers it as far as the conversation goes.

Mr. Leslie: When did you hand over the money?

Mr. Rawluk: Between Cornwall and Rose Streets while riding down 11th Avenue.

Mr. Leslie: You opened your briefcase, reached in and got the envelope? You handed it to Mr. Fines?

Mr. Rawluk: I put it on the seat. He reached down with his right hand and put it in his pocket.

Mr. Leslie: Did Mr. Fines say "thanks"?

Mr. Rawluk: He said "thank you. That's it."

Mr. Leslie asked if Mr. Rawluk knew of any other agencies which made "kickbacks." Mr. Rawluk said no and had never inquired. He acknowledged that Financial Agencies Ltd., of which he was manager, is among the smallest of the Regina agencies.

U.S. Backs Romulo For UN Post

United Nations, N.Y. (UP)—The United States grouped its forces behind Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines today in preparation for the first ballot in the United Nations Security Council for selection of a new secretary-general.

Russia nominated Polish Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzyszewski and Denmark, seconded by Britain, proposed General Assembly President Lester B. Pearson of Canada.

"They only take the best risks," he explained. "They refuse younger drivers and older people and drivers with poor records. Meanwhile, somebody has to cover these motorists. But it will be harder than ever to provide coverage with All-State skimming the cream of the car insurance business."

Referring to the possibility of mail-order sales of car insurance in B.C., provincial government officials said today it will still be necessary for the company to have representatives in B.C.

"The insurance act says policies must be signed by a resident agent," an official said.

Edith and Jack Shinder, both 29, visited the child at the Sick Children's Hospital Wednesday night. They were accompanied by the unmarried 15-year-old mother who gave her written consent for them to take him.

Hospital superintendent J. Bower said he could not take the responsibility for releasing the baby, however, even though police said they had "no objections" as the Shinders had been "cleared of criminal charges."

Shinder, a haberdashery salesman, was fined $150, two days ago after pleading guilty to faking a birth certificate for the baby. The same charge against his wife was withdrawn.

Emergency Meeting Of U.K. Cabinet Drafts Strong Note

LONDON (AP)—The foreign office tonight instructed the British high commissioner in Germany to lodge a protest with the Russians against the shooting down of a British bomber earlier today.

The foreign office earlier confirmed that an RAF Lincoln bomber had been shot down in Germany by jet fighters, identified by eyewitnesses as Soviet MIGs.

The foreign office said it was "far too early to decide" if the incident shows a new pattern of Russian tactics lined with Stalin's death.

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters today shot down a four-engine British bomber near the Soviet frontier between the British and Russian zones of Germany. It was the second attack on Western planes in two days.

The pilot of the RAF Lincoln bomber attacked today survived and was taken injured to a German hospital, but at least four British airmen were killed. Three bodies were found near the wreckage, which landed mostly in this town in the British zone. The navigator, a bullet wound in his shoulder, died of a broken neck en route to hospital.

Parts of the wreckage were reported to have fallen across the Elbe River in Communist-controlled territory. German eyewitnesses said the attacking planes definitely encroached upon the air of Western Germany.

Two bursts of machine-gun fire were heard and then the bomber blew up, a British official said.

Second Violation in Two Days

It was the second violation of frontiers in two days. On Tuesday Soviet-built MIG-15s attacked two American jet fighters in an area 300 miles south of today's incident. One U.S. jet pilot was shot down but he parachuted safely to earth.

The plane shot down today was a four-engine bomber, the British foreign office said.

It was an RAF Lincoln, a propeller-driven Second World War type, that is no match for jets. Such planes usually carry a crew of seven. The foreign office said three men bailed out and one later died. This would mean five men died in the attack, if the plane was carrying all seven crew members.

The foreign office spokesman told reporters in London that the attack took place over Bleckede, just within the British zone of Germany. British troops were posted around the wreckage.

The British plane was attacked by two fighters as it flew westward, apparently from Berlin toward West Germany through one of the narrow air corridors, which Allied planes are required to follow over Soviet-occupied east Germany.

It fell just across the border inside east Germany near the Elbe River town of Boizenburg.

U.S. Relations With Russia Seen Strained

BY PHIL NEWSOM
United States and Russian relations have been put to an earlier test than might have been expected after the death of Stalin.

The United States and the world will assume that the words were Czechoslovakia's but the voice was Moscow's in the rejection of the U.S. protest against the shooting down of a U.S. Thunderjet inside the U.S. zone of Germany.

However, in the midst of the justifiable indignation, it might not be amiss to inject a word of caution hinged on two ideas:

1. In the modern era wars do not start as a result of isolated incidents.

2. Any harassment of the western Allies by Russia today was planned long before Stalin's death, and by Stalin. The new Russian government has not yet had time to shape its policies.

If Russia is to start any war, it will not be by one, two or three planes over inoffensive countryside. It will be by bomber fleets striking at global nerve and supply centres.

Russian planes have attacked over Western Europe at least six times since 1948 in incidents involving the United States, Britain, France and Sweden.

Stiff diplomatic notes so far have been the only result.

So far as the United States is concerned—based on the Eisenhower administration's early performance—the attitude now may be expected to find ways and means still to be determined.

One immediate result might be to put F-86 Sabre jets—nemeses of the MIG in Korea—on patrol along the Czech border instead of the weaker F-84 or Thunderjet. In any event, to bring about a clear restatement of policy that we will meet force with force.

The present period of uncertainty has been compared to Hitler's period of reckless expansion which led to the Second World War.

However, there are important differences.

Hitler gambled on the premise that the Allies would not fight.

The Russians, especially after Korea and Berlin, can be under no such illusions.

YOUNG UNWED MOTHER GIVES CONSENT

N.Y. Couple Moves to Adopt Canadian 'Smuggled' Infant

TORONTO (BUP)—A Brooklyn couple who tried to smuggle a baby across the border moved today to adopt the boy.

Edith and Jack Shinder, both 29, visited the child at the Sick Children's Hospital Wednesday night. They were accompanied by the unmarried 15-year-old mother who gave her written consent for them to take him.

Hospital superintendent J. Bower said he could not take the responsibility for releasing the baby, however, even though police said they had "no objections" as the Shinders had been "cleared of criminal charges."

Shinder, a haberdashery salesman, was fined $150, two days ago after pleading guilty to faking a birth certificate for the baby. The same charge against his wife was withdrawn.

Attorney-General Dana Porter wasn't prepared to give an immediate opinion on the couple's attempts to take the child "until I know a great deal more about it."

Porter added, however, that "generally speaking a mother can put her child into the hands of anyone she chooses."

Bower said the young mother had not admitted the child to hospital and because there had been considerable publicity attracted to the case he wanted to "play safe" and keep the baby.

He said that when police delivered the baby to the hospital 10 days ago it was "legally abandoned."

The Shinders' attorney, Louis Herman, said he would accompany them to the Children's Aid Society today in an effort to convince officials that the baby would receive proper care from the Brooklyn couple.

At Buffalo, N.Y., U.S. immigration inspector Arthur J. Karuth said he would stop the Shinders from entering the United States if they have the child unless the couple receives clearance from the American consulate in Toronto.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

SILENCE AND SCORN

RECENT references in the Legislature, and out of it, to the value of silence vs. speech on the floor of the House points up the unusual in a news item I noticed in a London newspaper the other day.

It recorded that members of the House of Lords sat up in astonishment when Lord Dorchester arose to speak on a problem of parish elections that had come to his attention. But, the item noted, it wasn't the subject that startled his fellow-peers. It was the fact that the 76-year-old peer was making his first speech after 21 years in that august assembly.

IS IT GOLDEN?

Something of a parallel is to be found in B.C. legislative history about 30 years ago, when a mainland member named Macdonald arose to second a motion, to the astonishment of his colleagues. It was his first utterance on the floor after some years as a representative of a constituency in the upper country.

These two samples of what one might call tongue-tiedness on the part of parliamentarians will probably be held up as models worthy of our emulation by some current critics, who are prone to forget that parliaments are forums for the airing of the views held by constituents, said constituents having to rely largely on this medium for bringing their problems to the fore.

WHY DEBATES?

That is why the traditional debates are staged—one on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, and the other on the Budget—debates that have come down through centuries of practice and custom via the British Parliament. And a debate can only be brought about by Members arguing one with another, and certainly not by silence.

Exception has again been taken by some observers to the exchange of taunts and jibes on the floor of the Provincial Legislature. Some critics have even alluded to them as rudeness—but, press comments notwithstanding, I have yet to hear a remark which could be construed as personal.

"MALEVOLENT MIND"

In this regard, British Columbia legislators compare very favorably with British parliamentarians. While attending a session of the House of Commons in London two years ago, I heard Mr. Churchill, then Leader of the Opposition, make a bitter personal attack on Mr. Herbert Morrison, then Foreign Minister, for saying that if the Tories had had their way Britain would have been involved in two wars.

Mr. Churchill said—and I quote from Hansard—"Here is this new Foreign Secretary, who shows all the world that his main thought in life is to be a caucus boss and a bitter party electioneer. It is tragic indeed that at this time this distorted, twisted and malevolent mind is the one to which our foreign affairs are confided."

LIKE "MAU-MAU"

More recently, a Labor M.P., Mr. Tom O'Brien, speaking in Glasgow, said: "Parliament is greater and bigger than political parties. We boast that we are the Mother of Parliaments. Last week we behaved as if we were the Mau-Mau suddenly given responsible, democratic government. We certainly must have vigour and robustness in our debates—but with discipline, decision and decorum."

That is a commendation devoutly to be wished. But, if we cannot attain it here, perhaps the Speaker of the Legislature might like to try a French remedy. There, when the political hotheads get wrangling too warmly on the floor of the assembly, a piano-playing Member from Bordeaux slips out to an anteroom and plays a Chopin Nocturne or something similar. The result is said to be amazingly soothing to the most savage political breast. So why not try it out here?

Radio Stations Plan Editorial Broadcasts

MONTREAL (BUP)—Cancelling the use of "editorial opinion" by private broadcasters was broadcast by all stations that moved a step closer today to feel competent to do so.

The committee, meeting Wednesday at the CAB's annual convention, also recommended that CAB member stations, which compromise most of the privately-owned stations in Canada, be supplied from time to time with information about similar programs being broadcast by other member stations.

The committee included Foster Hewitt of station CKFH, Toronto, Jack Davidson, general manager of the Northern Broadcasting Company, North Bay, Ont., and W. B. C. Burgoine, owner of station CKTB, St. Catharines, Ont. It was appointed by the CAB board of directors following the association's annual meeting last year in Toronto, and charged with investigating the views held for and against the use of editorial policy by broadcasting stations.

Committee members also were told to investigate the mechanics of producing editorials for stations that might wish to use them.

The committee said it felt all stations had a right to have an editorial policy and to express it freely, and said such a right should be widely used. It defined "editorial" as the considered opinion of a station airing it.

Retirements have left vacant two key posts at the Court House here.

Cleve G. White, registrar of Supreme and County Courts in this city since 1938, retired earlier in the month, while Duncan MacBride, sheriff for the county of Victoria, is now on leave until April 1, when his retirement is effective.

Successors are expected to be appointed within the next few weeks.

Canadian Troops Put On Reserve Training

Battle-Hardened Commonwealth Division Removed to Rear Lines for Toughening

SEOUL (CP)—The battle-hardened first Commonwealth division was pulled off the Korean front line January 31 and placed in reserve, it was disclosed today.

The eighth army command released delayed dispatches on the division's withdrawal. It was the first time the division has been given reserve status since it was formed in July, 1951. United States and South Korean divisions are placed in reserve periodically in Korea.

Commonwealth forces now are undergoing "intensive training in offensive tactics" within carshot of the battle line. Reuters reported.

"This training was ordered by Gen. William Bridgeford, new Australian commander of British forces in Japan and Korea. He said some of the men had become 'static minded' after their long period holding a static front and the intensive training is designed to overcome this. Most of the division's front line duty was spent holding a vitally strategic area north of Seoul, South Korean capital.

The division is made up of Canadian, British and Australian infantry and supporting arms and services, New Zealand artillery, an Indian medical unit and a small South African officer detachment.

ENJOYING IT

A delayed dispatch by Associated Press correspondent Robert Tuckman dated February 12 said that Lt. Gen. William Bridgeford, who has since retired as commander of Commonwealth forces in Korea, told reporters he thought the placing of the division in reserve was a "very good thing" and "they are enjoying it."

His successor, Lt. Gen. Henry Wells, said it enables Commonwealth troops "to get on with training they can't get in the line."

Bridgeford said this training was "all offensive."

Bridgeford discounted reports that some of the troops were disgruntled over being placed in reserve. He said some men would complain whether the troops were left in the line or pulled off.

Wells said the division is in "grand shape" and the morale high.

Another delayed dispatch by Canadian Press correspondent Bill Boss, dated Jan. 31, said the division was sore about being placed in reserve.

AN INJUSTICE
"Commanders and soldiers all down the line were vocal about Eighth Army headquarters' 'mistaken kindness,'" Boss said. "To the soldiers in the front-line bunkers it appeared a downright injustice."

"They had spent months making their caves comfortable and safe. They had used considerable resourcefulness and initiative to devise the means and acquire the materials to enable them to spend the winter warmly."

"Instead they were sent out into fields where they had to pitch tents on ground frozen solid to a depth varying between 12 and 14 inches."

Boss added that the soldiers felt they had "done their donkey work for somebody else and had been cheated of the dividends of their investment."

The division's positions between the Hook and Little Gibraltar on the western front west of Chonwon—were taken over by the U.S. 2nd division.

3,000,000 Coronation Medals for Young Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Mint has got the go-ahead to produce an estimated 3,000,000 Coronation medals to be distributed to Canadian school children.

Announcement that the government has decided to have the medals struck was made in the Commons Wednesday by Finance Minister Abbott, who said they will be distributed to the children throughout the provinces, which have the responsibility for education.

The medal will probably be bronze, as was the special school children's medal struck in 1939 in connection with the Royal visit. That medal bore a likeness of the King and Queen on one side with a map of Canada on the reverse.

In 1927 another bronze medal was struck for distribution to school children to commemorate the 60th anniversary of Confederation.

A Coronation award medal was struck in 1937 for the Coronation of King George VI, but this was not generally distributed among school children.

First step in the issuing of the Queen Elizabeth Coronation medal will be the selection of designs for both sides of the coin. The designs will need the approval of the special Coronation committee, the Canadian government, and the Queen herself.

$100,000 Damage Suit Filed Against Queen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $100,000 damage suit has been filed against Queen Nazi Fud of Egypt and her daughter, Princess Fathia, by their former cook, Mrs. Lillian Selfors.

Mrs. Selfors said in her complaint Wednesday that she was knocked down by their Afghan dog, Duke, and suffered a broken leg in the queen's Beverly Hills mansion. Queen Nazi is the mother of deposed King Farouk.

Millionaire Lawyer To Give Himself Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vincent Hallinan, 1952 presidential candidate of the Progressive party, and his wife said they would surrender to a U.S. marshal today on income tax evasion charges. A federal grand jury Wednesday charged Hallinan, multimillionaire lawyer and his wife evaded $65,221 in taxes for the years 1946 through 1950.

U.S. Infantry Rescue Gallant Korea Patrol

Ringed By Reds, UN
Unit Fights 7 Hours

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—American infantrymen battled through a ring of Chinese Communists today to rescue an outnumbered U.S. patrol that made a seven-hour stand in the winter's heaviest snowfall to break up a Red attack.

Snow fell all along the 135-mile front. It ranged from eight inches in the west to 14 inches in the east. In some sectors the snow changed to rain late in the day and turned supply routes into quagmires.

The patrol, outnumbered nearly three to one, pounced on a 100-man Chinese force when it spotted the Reds moving across no-man's land to attack a UN position south of Pyongyang on the central front.

The Communist troops, their attack plans upset, surrounded the small patrol and poured rifle and machine gun fire on the men. Red mortars sent in shells from rear positions.

One body of troops from the main Allied positions ran into the Communists surrounding the patrol and was itself cut off.

A second American force pushed in to the fight and linked up with the first group of reinforcements. Together they fought their way through the Reds and reached the patrol.

Finally, at 10 a.m., seven hours after the patrol first jumped the superior Red force, the Americans broke out of the Communist circle and returned to their own lines.

Preliminary reports said 20 Reds were counted killed. Allied losses were not disclosed.

Speedboats To Race for Times Trophy

Victoria Daily Times shield, last competed for in 1938, will go to the winner of the Victoria Day outboard marathon May 18 from Ogden Point breakwater to Willows Beach.

Sponsor will be the Victoria Inboard-Outboard Association.

At the conclusion of the marathon, a regatta of six events will be held off Willows Beach for all classes of boats represented in the association.

Proceeds from a collection to be taken will be given to the Victoria Cerebral Palsy Association.

Some weary drivers will be on hand for the meet that will start at the breakwater at 1 p.m., since 15 members will take their boats to Sprout Lake for racing May 17 and will return the same night.

Fred Graham, vice-commander, can be reached at B1104 regarding entries.

Young Victoria Airman's Funeral Set for Saturday

Funeral services for a well-known Victoria airman, LAC Frank William (Bud) White, 23, RCAF, will be held at McCall's Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

He died of a heart ailment at Clinton, Ont., recently, and the remains are being shipped here by the Air Force.

He attended Cloverdale and Victoria High Schools.

Mr. White is survived by his wife, Ersul, at present in Victoria; a brother, Wally, and his mother, Mrs. Grace White, of Victoria. He was predeceased by his father, Mickey White, in August, 1947, in a fishing accident at Brentwood.

Rev. Dr. F. E. H. James will officiate at the ceremonies. No flowers by request.

Frosty Night Predicted

Skies will be clear tonight and there will be the risk of frost in sheltered areas, the weatherman said today.

Temperatures tonight and Friday will range between 38 and 45 degrees at Gonzales Observatory.

A storm now 1,000 miles off shore will bring a few clouds Friday, and showers are expected in the late afternoon.

CITY'S SUB-STANDARD RESORTS DROPPED BY AAA

Clamping down on operators of tourist establishments, the American Automobile Association has dropped 20 Victoria and district hotels, auto courts, and restaurants from membership for failure to keep premises up to the association standards.

George L. Warren, Victoria representative of the AAA, said Wednesday the required standards include general appearance, equipment, furnishings, cleanliness and atmosphere.

He explained that an inspector for the continent-wide tourist club recently inspected Victoria establishments. "Some well-known businesses are among those affected by loss of membership in the AAA but these operators may be reinstated if they carry out the required improvements on their premises," Mr. Warren said.

scores of them. There were phone messages also.

"Victoria dairy farmers were up in arms—they're still up in arms. All telegrams went before the cabinet which decided there was such a furor it had better have a special hearing to hear all the complaints. Two full mornings were devoted to the hearing.

"You didn't read any telegrams from the producers, but they sent dozens of protests to the cabinet.

"I want to correct this awful misrepresentation. This is a distortion of the truth to read a few embarrassing telegrams. No government has the power to tell any man how to word a telegram."

Have Large Personal Interest

"Today's press release indicates complete revision of methods of distributing milk on lower mainland. In my opinion proposal will lead to disruption of the industry at purchaser and consumer level as well as distributor.

This means serious embarrassment to government of province. Submit that cabinet should not consider ratification of order with so far-reaching implications without at least hearing representation from us. Strongly urge that we be given this consideration. As you know, I have a large personal interest in this matter."

Along with these Mr. Kiernan also filed a telegram from Ald. Anna Sprott of Vancouver (later a running mate with Mr. Wismer in Vancouver Centre) urging price decontrol to help housewives get lower milk prices; and another in similar tone from Shannon Dairies Ltd. Mr. Kiernan filed affidavits, taken in October last year, from two persons stating their impressions of a "confidential" meeting in Vancouver January 21, 1952, at which milk board chairman E. C. Carr disclosed a de-control plan similar to the one now proposed by the Socreds.

The affidavits were signed by Basil Gardom of Vancouver, president and manager of the Independent Milk Producers' Association, and Victor Palitti, Vancouver lawyer.

According to the affidavits, 23 distributors attended the meeting and were told the de-control policy would guarantee a fixed price to the farmer, and leave the distributors open to competition.

Decontrol Means Milk Increase

The minister filed a newspaper clipping dated Jan. 24, three days after the confidential meeting, in which details of the decontrol plan were revealed.

He then filed the telegrams from Senator Farris and Mrs. Sprott. The senator's wires were sent on the evening of the day the newspaper revealed details of the meeting.

The minister then filed a newspaper story, printed the following day, which reported the Liberal government had that day delayed the decontrol decision for 10 days. No action was ever taken by the government.

Mr. Straith in his statement contended that decontrol will ultimately increase the prices of milk.

He asked Mr. Kiernan if the government has changed its mind about removing controls May 1 as previously announced, now that the election can't be held May 6.

The minister said Mr. Straith was "imputing motives" when talking about the election date.

Mr. Straith asked again, and got this reply:

"I must refer you to the Milk Board for that answer."

"The Milk Board doesn't make the final order. That rests with the government," insisted Mr. Straith. "This is another distortion. You know it. Answer the question."

Mr. Kiernan then noted Mr. Straith appeared "unduly disturbed about this problem." The effective date, he explained, will be when all details are worked out, and after the plan has been presented to producers and distributors.

The minister said Mr. Straith was "imputing motives" when talking about the election date.

CROCUSES IN FULL BLOOM

'Golden Glory' Fills Park

It's crocus time in Beacon Hill Park.

"They're bursting in all their golden glory in clumps and patches dotted throughout the park.

"They've been in bloom for six weeks and are still going strong," remarked a parks official today. "We put out 4,000 crocuses last year and will plant more this fall."

Daffodils have started to bloom while camellias and forsythia are in full bloom. The flowering plum trees, both in the park and on boulevards are in bloom and the double pink Blireiana is coming out.

About this time of year, the parks department begins to get

Island Logger Identifies Body

Port Alberni Woodworker Tells Police Mutilated Man His Brother

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 62-year-old British Columbia woodworker has identified the mutilated body of a man slain at Renton, Wash., as his 69-year-old brother.

The woodworker, Cesare Della Mora of Port Alberni, told Seattle police Tuesday that he had not seen his brother for 30 years, "but I would know him anytime by his teeth and nose."

The hands of the victim had been hacked from the body and lye had been used to destroy most facial features.

Identification was essential in investigation of the mystery that began a week ago when the victim was found shot to death.

Ships, Planes Search for 9 Lost at Sea

NEW YORK (UP)—Coast Guard cutters and aircraft searched the stormy North Atlantic 1,000 miles east of New York today for the bow of the Liberian tanker Angy missing since an explosion and fire broke her in two four days ago.

Eight or nine persons, including the captain and his wife, were believed to be aboard the battered bow.

Twenty-eight crewmen were rescued Wednesday from the stern section of the 9,000-ton motor ship which split up en route from the Persian Gulf to Philadelphia with a cargo of 109,000 barrels of crude oil.

The tanker's radio apparently was knocked out by the explosion.

The Coast Guard dispatched the cutter Unimak from Argentina, Newfoundland, and the cutters Coox Bay and Chambers from their ocean stations to search the area where the bow section disappeared. Seven planes were scheduled to join the search today from Argentina.

Forty-mile per hour winds were reported lashing North Atlantic sea lanes. Trans-Atlantic passenger liners were being delayed by the weather, with the Queen Mary expected in New York one day behind schedule.

Former Actress Found In Closet Murdered

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Her hands trussed behind her back and her head crushed, the body of 62-year-old former actress Mabel Monahan was found in a closet of her home Wednesday.

She had been dead for several days, police said. Mrs. Monahan, a widow, apparently was reading when her attacker surprised her. An open book, "The Purple Pony Murder," lay on the arm of a chair.

Too Heavy a Load

IN ITS DECISION TO APPEAL against the 7 per cent increase in railway freight rates British Columbia's government will find support throughout this province and in other parts of Western Canada.

The imposition of the new charge—which would boost rates to 98 per cent above those at the close of the war—obviously inflicts a more serious injustice against the west than any other part of the country.

That point is clear from the recommendations of the Turgeon commission calling for an equalization formula. Parliament is aware of the argument and has shown its recognition of the need for amendment by authorizing hearings on the question.

A few weeks ago it was noted in these columns that the price of CPR bonds reflected a general appreciation of the financial health of the rail line. On other occasions the argument has been raised that the company should consider in its balance sheet the returns from all its properties, including lucrative mining and smelting operations. Still further, the point has been made that with the index leveling off, the present is no strategic time to increase commodity prices by boosting the charges on freight.

These are elements which surely deserve attention as a matter of concern to every man, woman and child who pays for goods brought across the continent by rail, or lives on the returns from products shipped by rail out of the province—products, incidentally, which now face competitive marketing and which must be supplied at costs which make them attractive to outside buyers.

The intricacies of freight rate structures are admittedly beyond the understanding of the layman. What is not beyond his understanding is the fact that charges are lower in central Canadian provinces, where competitive carrying services are provided by shipping on inland waterways and by trucks. And what is also within his comprehension is the fact that the CPR profits in the last 29 years from Western Canada were more than twice those from the east.

These are matters which British Columbia's counsel will doubtless draw to the transport board's attention in the appeal against the new increases.

This and other western provinces deserve a fair deal on the rate structure itself. If they do not receive one, then the discrimination already practiced against them will be just that much greater.

Old Problem . . . New Approach

A STATEMENT BY ATTORNEY-General Robert Bonner in the legislature to the effect that CPR trains in the Kootenays are again running on normal schedules, since bombing attacks on the rail lines by recalcitrant Doukhobors have now ceased, should occasion some surprise among the public.

In no other part of Canada could such an announcement be made. It should not be "news" that a Canadian railway line is now able to operate without undue fear of dynamite explosions. It speaks well for the patience of Kootenay residents that violence has not long ago been met with parallel action.

At the same time it must be conceded that retaliatory violence would have provided no remedy for the peculiar problem presented by the Doukhobors of this province. Aggressive action, of course, has been confined to the Sons of Freedom sect. The great majority of Doukhobors are peaceful, quiet and industrious. But the fact remains that they have not yet attained the place in British Columbia life which might be expected.

They have sought seclusion to the point of ostracism. They have entered scarcely at all into the social and political life of the province. Their many talents have been lost to the general community while the shortcomings of their more fanatical members have cost the province considerable in expense and effort.

Hope that this situation may slowly be corrected is seen in the new approach to the problem initiated by the last Coalition government and being continued by the present administration. As Mr. Bonner said in the House last week, money is being appropriated for the new commission that will deal with Doukhobor matters. Members of the sect may receive the vote, their informal marriage ceremony will receive legal sanction, a great new attempt will be made to win the co-operation and trust of these people.

Such a course imposes much more self-discipline than the more human one of judgment and punishment. It is easier to turn a deaf ear than to turn the other cheek. But all who have studied the problem in any depth have urged the "soft" treatment.

Though we may heartily wish we were rich of them, the sympathetic approach to the Doukhobors—still struggling, in many ways, to emerge from the 18th century—appears to offer the best hope of success.

Remembered With Respect

THE PEOPLE OF THIS PROVINCE who recognize the legacy left to British Columbia by the late E. C. Carson in his progressive highway policy—and who understand how the former minister of public works accomplished so much—will hope Mr. Gagliardi spoke pleasantly only when he told his fellow members seeking special consideration that he had a big heart.

Every constituency in British Columbia would like more roads. Representatives from virtually every constituency can put forward good argument to support their cases.

But if British Columbia is to continue its program of sound highway construction, the minister of public works, despite his sympathies, must be firm. He must continue planning and executing projects that will give the province main highways strategically located to serve all the people and to assist the economy of B.C. He cannot afford to permit the eloquent pleas of special sections to dissipate funds required for main arteries and important secondaries on less essential, though highly desirable, local projects.

Mr. Gagliardi's decisions on such requests will not be easy. He is a member of a government which hopes soon to appeal to the people for a more genuine mandate than it now holds. He will be subject to heavy pressure from different interests to build a road here and a road there to serve local needs and increase the popularity of the administration to which he belongs.

The late Mr. Carson was subjected to similar pressures. It is a measure of his stature that he did not deviate from the plan he laid down—a plan which has vastly improved the highway system of this province and has served as a model for successors. Large-hearted and courteous as he was, he did not sacrifice the ultimate scheme of a good provincial road program to the immediate expediency of satisfying local voters.

Happy Musical Menage

MUSIC LOVERS OF THIS COMMUNITY will find satisfaction in the announcement that Hans Gruber will again be available to lead the Victoria Symphony next season. Speculation over his plans for the future had been stirred by reports that he might seek employment elsewhere. The appearance of his concert master on the podium for the most recent appearance of the orchestra had lent fuel to such rumors.

Now, it appears, Mr. Gruber will continue as musical director here, maintaining the happy relationship with his assembled musicians which has been an important factor in the sustained improvement of the Victoria Symphony.

Details of his re-engagement will, of course, be in the hands of directors of the society. They may proceed, however, with the knowledge that the public in general will support them in retaining the services of the talented young director.

Now We See It—Through the Fog

THERE SEEM ENDLESS POSSIBILITIES of humor in the story from Markfield, England, about the huntsmen searching through one of Britain's heaviest fogs for a missing pack of hounds.

There will be the conventional quips about the aristocracy going to the dogs—and going unsuccessfully.

But to some Canadians who have never appreciated the significance of riding to hounds, there will be an element of sense in the report from Markfield. At least on that occasion the hunters were actually hunting.

LOOSE ENDS

In Mid-Atlantic

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

THIS IS BEING WRITTEN, in a sort of a way, in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. Have you ever written a column for a newspaper in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean during a February gale? An interesting experience.

For example, half way through the above paragraph the table before me, the typewriter, my chair and I were neatly catapulted across the stateroom, landing in some disorder against the starboard wall. I have just pulled myself and my baggage together and am making a new start. But I doubt I shall get far.

The officers of this most excellent Cunard liner Parthia, which is a little floating palace, tell me that there really is no storm today, just a bit of a swell. However, it continues to swell and may ultimately achieve the dignity of a real storm; in which case I shall no longer continue a vertical position. It is just too much trouble.

NOT HAVING seen it for a long time, I have concluded that the Atlantic Ocean is a considerable body of water. I could wish this morning that it were a little smaller. There was no need to make it so large. It is quite a bit bigger than Shawinigan Lake where I would like to be at this moment. And rougher, too, even without a real storm.

LAST NIGHT when this so-called swell got under way I attempted to assume a horizontal position on my bed but it was no use. I was vertical, standing alternately on my head and feet until dawn. When I want to be upright I find myself flat and vice versa. And at breakfast the spectacle of the ship's officers ordering steak and fried potatoes and pork chops did not improve my appetite. An English lady, tucking into a large portion of kippers, remarked that she was never seasick and, a moment later, rose suddenly from the table and lunched out of the room with a greenish look. I also remarked that I was a first-class sailor and hurriedly repaired to this cabin.

THIS SHIP IS FILLED with English people, most of them returning home from a holiday in Bermuda and all of them are out of the row drawer of English society. A hardy breed. No one can be on this ship for a day without realizing that the future of Britain is secure. The breed is unconquerable. It eats largely five times a day at least, consumes substantial quantities of alcohol between times, without visible effect, gambles on the horse races in the lounge, revels in bingo, watches movies in a stolid way and finishes the day dancing. Compared to that immovable species we Canadians are an effete lot. I wish I were at Shawinigan.

MIDWAY in the last sentence I found myself on the floor again, covered with a steamer trunk, a typewriter, a pillow and a book called "The Cruel Sea." I am not going to read that book. It would be superfluous.

But I would have you know that I am not seasick. Not in the least. I have merely a touch of indigestion from some oysters and champagne, consumed last night at a gala dinner when everybody wore paper hats and threw balloons about with a well-mannered British restraint. The British take their pleasures sadly, but not as sadly as we Canadians. No, I am not seasick, just a little tired and dizzy and I wish I were at Shawinigan where there is no swell.

PICKING up my typewriter and myself again, I only wish to repeat what I started to say—that this is a large ocean, a cruel sea, and they made it too large in the first place.

Looking at it through the porthole, at the heaving mountains of green water and white foam, one can hardly believe that the first Canadians, Cartier, Champlain and the rest, traveled here in ships which would fit comfortably into the lounge of this liner, and they sometimes took three months to reach Quebec. Today one of their unworthy sons complains about a minor swell.

THE FACT is that we are spoiled on this ship with all the comforts of a luxury hotel, stewards plying us with food and drink, an orchestra constantly fiddling away, fun and games on all sides and ruddy officers to assure us that we are mighty lucky to enjoy such fine weather.

Altogether it is the finest holiday I have ever known. I forget what day of the week it is, there are no telephones or newspapers to interrupt my repose. I can do whatever I please or nothing. All the problems of the world are a thousand miles away, the swell is really swell when you get used to it, I am sorry for my colleagues laboring while I rest and, quite reverently, I wish to God I were at Shawinigan with an axe in my hand this fine February morning.

Put Up or Shut Up

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, from Washington

THE very fact that we have nothing affirmative to propose to the General Assembly may sharpen up the speaker which will have to be faced sooner or later—of the rules and usages of debate with the United Nations itself.

For the time being the American intention is to wait and see, to sit back and listen. This may well seem to Mr. Vishinsky and his comrades an invitation to do all the talking and any kind of talking. What will happen if he does that is anyone's guess. But it is worth thinking about before he talks too much less, running in a free field with accusations of germ warfare, aggression in Korea, imperialism and warmongering, he succeed at last in making someone in the U.S. delegation lose his temper unprofitably.

Is there no alternative to a tactic of saying nothing until we are pushed into saying too much? I wonder if the alternative is not to raise the question, long overdue anyway, of whether debate in the Assembly and the Council is or is not subject to the rules of decorum which prevail in every civilized parliament, without which any parliament will break up in disorder.

The fundamental rule, it seems to me, that we might insist upon is that when a speaker makes an accusation against a government, the delegate of the accused may raise a point of order and call for a vote by the Assembly or Council on whether the charge should be rejected or investigated—and if it is to be investigated, before what tribunal.

Thus Mr. Vishinsky will, if he runs true to form, accuse the United States of conspiring to commit aggression against North Korea. This charge is a direct contradiction of the judgment of the United Nations, and its repetition inside the United Nations is an affront to the integrity and the dignity of the United Nations. If the charge is repeated, we should rise at once to a point of order.

It is also probable that the U.S. will be accused of waging germ warfare in Korea. The ground for the revival of that campaign was laid two days ago in Peiping with the broadcasting of the alleged confession of two captured marine airmen.

At the first repetition of the charges the U.S. representative should rise to a point of order and ask that the speaker be offered the choice of accepting an investigation directed by the United Nations, or of withdrawing the charge, or of losing the floor.

These are merely two concrete examples illustrating a principle which the U.S. and its friends can begin to affirm. In doing that we can honestly say that the acceptance of this principle is almost certainly necessary to the survival of the United Nations.

The principle is that in a debate serious charges made by one member against another must be brought to some formal judgment. They cannot be allowed to lie loose, and undisturbed, to poison the mind of the world. The debate is not free but merely irresponsible if anything can be said and nothing has to be proved.

It is here, I think, that the U.N. may be saved as the meeting place of all the powers, or destroyed because it does so much to magnify and envenom their differences. The fate of the U.N. hangs rather uncertainly. I fear, upon this issue—upon whether the U.N. will, like any responsible parliament, keep its debate within the limits which are tolerable, not to say helpful, to its own purpose and its reason for existence.

CIVIL DEFENSE

I note with deep regret, that a pamphlet is being distributed under the heading of "Civil Defense," presumably by the instructions of L. T. Hatcher Esq., and B. H. E. Goult, Esq., advising all and sundry, that "Victoria is a target area," which "may be bombed."

This fact, as stated, might, or might not, be true, but this is a very dangerous practice, as there is absolutely no need to scare the aged and others to death, by circulating a pamphlet of this character.

A door-to-door canvass explaining the situation in an intellectual manner to the householder and others, would be (in my opinion) the best way to increase the membership of the Civil Defense Corps in Victoria.

Capt. J. D. Proudfoot, M.L.A., was chief warden during the last war, and the warden in charge of the various districts, also myself, found this method of recruiting members for the Civil Defense, to be successful; also, the advice given in this house-to-house canvass, always received a sympathetic hearing from the householder, which brought about practical results.

CHINA TRADE

A recent despatch from London, England, states "Britain is still trying to establish normal diplomatic relations with Communist China but has received no response. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said in a letter made public yesterday."

Canadian Communists are constantly stating that we should establish normal trade relations with China and in view of the above and their general conduct it is quite obvious that no sincerity of purpose can be expected from Russian Communist-dominated countries.

Those who follow the "commie line" in Canada should be heartily ashamed of themselves and don't deserve to enjoy the many freedoms and privileges they have.

Thank God the people are awakening to the dangers of the fifth and sixth columns in our midst.

Canadian "commies" would be the first to be liquidated by Malenkov if he ever got control of North America.

EFFECTIVE LIVING

Concerning the present school controversy, it is obvious that there is something wrong with our present school system. Why? Because experts report that whereas about 15 years ago most of the inmates of our penitentiaries were oldish toughs; now quite half of them are young people, even some teenagers.

Effective living can only be taught effectively through religion, and especially through the Bible. If is seldom, if ever, that the products of our private schools where the Bible is taught, are found in our penitentiaries.

Is it not significant that in the old days when the Bible was taught to our youth as a general rule, and so called modern effective living was not taught; that the term "juvenile delinquency" was never heard of?

Therefore it is obviously right, both for the good of our country and of individuals, that the Bible should be taught in our public schools. If the Social Credit government will introduce this reform, they will indeed earn the gratitude of all people of goodwill in the province. Also church people of all denominations should co-operate in helping them to do this.

PROPERTY TAX

The premier is quoted as saying that those of us who believe that the proposed bill No. 45 means what it says, and are openly critical of the effect its enforcement will have on our already overburdened ratepayers, "are spreading propaganda." He also is quoted as saying that the bill only covers "industrial machinery."

I have read Bill No. 45 very carefully and have not been able to find one instance where the word "industrial" is coupled with the word "machinery." However I do find that on page 1 of the bill, "improvements" includes (a) "all buildings, fixtures, machinery, structures and things . . . placed in . . . any building . . . and shall include any fixture, machinery and things as if so . . . placed by a tenant, and things as if so . . . placed by a tenant and be removable by the tenant as personal property."

In the explanatory note opposite page 1 it says . . . "it will be mandatory . . . that land and 75 per cent of the improvements as defined in this Act are assessable for educational purposes." And also "educational assessments on land and improvement under the wider definition of this Act will be mandatory in municipalities as well as rural areas for the calendar year 1954 and thereafter."

This bill, if passed, will either have to be enforced or it will not be enforced, perhaps in a manner similar to that now used in the voluntary contribution to compulsory hospital insurance.

If it is enforced then it seems to me that the personal property mentioned in the bill will have to be taxed. If it is not enforced it will be extremely interesting to see how the government appointed director of assessments will determine who shall, and who shall not, pay.

Your article on the D. P. Croat who, in less than 700 days, paid $6,000 on a house and has enough for a $12,000 farm has set me wondering. Will you please get him to tell us how he does it.

What income tax did he pay? What rent did he pay? After these and the $6,000 on the house, what did he use for eats and clothes? From my pay the income tax they take 700 days $1,600, and rent $700 and food $1,400. Nobody takes his, eh?

W. CRANICZ.

ALL THEIR FAULT

I wonder if anyone could have thought it possible that the Sacred government of Mr. Bennett could have lowered the status of the Legislature to its present disgusting level as quickly as they have done. From observations this session is the most disgraceful in B.C.'s history and should give the electors who voted for it a very good idea of what happens when they support political opportunists and think they are doing something smart to put a $140,000,000 business in the hands of such an incompetent crowd.

It is also illuminating to see and read the rubbish that is spoken there even by some of the old-time members. For instance we read of Mrs. Hodges claiming that the Social Credit could not possibly in seven months assume all the credit for the present excellent financial condition of the province (correct) and in the same breath saying that the late Liberal government was responsible for that (such rubbish)—a complete about face.

Why, the Liberal government as such not only didn't exist for seven months, but only lasted from January 19, 1952, to June 12, 1952.

The financial success of the government can be laid at the door of the former minister of finance in the Coalition government, Mr. Anscomb. In the short space of five years as minister, by his skilful handling, he brought the finances of this province to the present excellent state. He not only paid off $26,000,000 of John Hart's shortage in the sinking fund, but left millions in addition for the present government to carry on an extensive program in all fields.

The truth of the matter is had it not been for arrogance and conceited attitude of the former Premier Johnson, British Columbia could today be enjoying the stability and good government it experienced during the past 10 years which surely is so vital in this present period.

The Liberal Party alone is entirely responsible for the chaos now in evidence.

IN THE HOUSE

By GORDON FORBES, Times Legislative Reporter

Leo Nimsick (CCF, Cranbrook) has found out why cows have sad faces.

It came to him during the lengthy debate on the milk industry in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

"Their sad faces are obviously the result of all the trouble caused by milk," said the MLA.

During the same debate, Tony Gargrave (CCF, MacKenzie) prefaced his remarks by stating:

"I actually don't know much about milk—I don't even like the stuff. I never drink it."

"What do you drink?" asked Education Minister Tilly Rolston.

Mr. Gargrave ignored the question, and went on to say he did know the government had no business to throw the milk producers to the mercy of the law of supply and demand.

A slip of the tongue by Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi caused him considerable embarrassment during a vote in the House.

Inadvertently, he voted with the opposition on a verbal vote.

When the opposition stood to be counted, the minister remained sitting and was "razed" by CCF'ers.

"Why don't you stand up with us? You shouted 'yes,'" said William Moore (CCF, Comox).

"I'll stand up when I take a notion," replied the minister. He did, and corrected his position by standing up with the government.

"Let there be light—any kind of light" could be CCF Leader Harold Winch's slogan.

When working at his trade as an electrician, he said he tried to give light in a physical way.

"Now I'm trying to do it in a political way," he remarked during a debate.

Premier Bennett accused Opposition Leader Winch of "talking down" to Agriculture Minister Kiernan in the House during the afternoon long milk debate.

Mr. Winch had said there's a big difference between pumping a gasoline pump and heading up the government's milk control policy.

Kiernan is a former Chilliwack garage operator.

"Some of us have been studying these problems for 20 years," said Mr. Winch, "but only a few months ago Mr. Kiernan was pumping gas on the highway. Now he thinks he knows all there is to know about pumping milk out of a cow."

"Talking down, talking down," cried Premier Bennett.

SAANICH MLA WANTS BETTER WINEMAKERS

B.C. should import expert winemakers instead of importing California wines, Frank Snowsall (CCF, Saanich) said in the Legislature Wednesday.

Saanich, he said, has a small wine industry based on the loganberry crop. Importing American wines, the member contended, would be a severe blow. The loganberries are not suitable for shipping as fresh fruit.

He felt complaints about the quality of B.C. wines could be reduced if better winemakers were brought in. This, he said, would do away with the cry for California wines.

The Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic lie about 300 miles east of the south tip of South America.

CCF Move Loses On Liberal Vote

The provincial government, with the aid of six Liberal MLAs, Wednesday defeated a CCF motion to file in the Legislature a deputy ministers' committee report on education costs.

The vote was 24 to 21. It was the fourth time the Liberal bloc, which holds the balance of power, has voted to sustain the government. The two Tories and Tom Uphill, Independent Labor, voted with the CCF.

The CCF wanted to see the report, containing recommendations for solving the problem of inequitable school costs, so comparisons could be made with the Rolston formula, the government's new plan for school financing.

The report was prepared by four deputy ministers at the request of the former government. It was submitted in April, 1952.

Finance Minister Einar Gunderson, presenting the government's objection to the motion, said a serious principle was involved.

Raising the report, he explained, would bring about the extraordinary position whereby a report by government staff members would be on the floor of the House in competition to a government policy.

"This would certainly lead to irrelevance in debate," Mr. Gunderson contended.

In addition, he said, reports of this nature are confidential. He quoted several Speakers' decisions to support his argument. He asked the CCF to withdraw the motion, but Opposition Leader Harold Winch refused.

Commission on Sex Offenses Is Advocated

Welfare Council Petitions Commons

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—A royal commission to study the problem of sex offenders was advocated by the Canadian Welfare Council Tuesday when it presented a brief to the Commons committee considering the revised Criminal Code.

The council questioned the wisdom of sentencing sexual psychopaths to indeterminate preventive detention without any provision for treatment. The sections of the bill dealing with sex offenders were framed without sufficient consideration to the knowledge of sexual behavior collected by social scientists over the past few years.

WANT TREATMENT

The council's submission was "It may be necessary for the protection of society and for the protection of the offender himself that certain dangerous sexually maladjusted persons be kept in detention, but if the offenders are recognized as ill persons, treatment should be provided."

The council said it knew of no thorough study of the sex offender prepared in Canada. Without such study no good legislation could be prepared.

"We therefore recommend that a royal commission be set up to study further the whole matter of the sex offender and to make recommendations thereon to the federal government. The royal commission should include in its membership representatives of education, law, medicine, psychiatry, psychology, religion, social work and sociology," the submission said.

The House of Lords is the supreme judicial authority for Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Socreds 'Public Menace' No. 1' Says Finlayson

"The government is already beginning to show itself as inconsistent and dictatorial in its attitude toward the public. Social Credit is public menace No. 1."

That is how Dean Finlayson, Provincial Progressive Conservative leader, described the Social Credit government to a meeting of the Victoria executive of the federal association Wednesday night.

He pointed to the "opportunity of Conservatives to present a program of level-headed democratic government" while conceding public opinion was starting to fall away from the Social Credit party.

The meeting also heard J. A. George, recently nominated candidate for the provincial seat, and later approved the appointment of M. L. T. Drake as his campaign manager.

Installment Fines Urged to Give Equal Treatment Before the Law

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA (Special)—A provision in the revised criminal code to allow the payment of fines by installments was urged by the Canadian Welfare Council, Tuesday, in a brief to the Commons committee.

The bill covering the suggested revision to the Canadian code, as passed by the Senate and sent to the Commons, includes no provision for installment fines.

Such a provision, the brief maintains, will remove the inequality before the law between persons who can pay fines and those who are without funds and must go to jail. Such a system, the welfare council argued, would keep all persons possible from being exposed to the dangers of imprisonment.

Royston Man Held on Rape Charge

COURTENAY.—A Royston man is being held in Courtenay lockup on a charge of rape of a nine-year-old girl he allegedly picked up in his car March 6. One hour after the girl had been assaulted, the RCMP had arrested the suspect.

Magistrate G. H. Pidcock remanded the case for eight days. The man will remain in custody until the trial.

Mount View Students Enjoy 'Live' Hamlet

Mount View's 425 students sat rapt through the Vancouver Avon Players' presentation of "Hamlet" in the high school's new auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

The group directed by Dean Goodman, is playing Shakespeare in city high schools during the week.

An audience of this type is generally readier to watch comedy than tragedy, and it found great delight in the bombastic blundering Polonius. However, the play wasn't over their heads, and they took a great liking to Shakespeare's wry humor.

In some instances, the students, ready for a good laugh, found humor in the wrong places, but judging by the applause after each act, they enjoyed the play a whole lot better than if they had had to study it in an English class.

Mary Matthews turned in a creditable performance as Ophelia and William Lawson stood out as Horatio.

Nadyne Hamilton as the Queen was excellent, turning in a royal job in a difficult role. Frank Lindsay, the students.

will remember for a long while for his portrayal of the dead king in the ghost scene and later in the play as Rosencrantz.

Although some of his words were not very audible because of the cramped stage, Glyn Jones was a very impressive Polonius.

Others in the cast were: Arthur Keenan, Leonard Lauk, Don Pethley, Ron MacDonald, Earl Bearg, Wini Hutt and Jack McLaren.

Today the group will put on two performances at Oak Bay Junior High School, and the second at 8 p.m. Friday. The troupe will visit Victoria High School at 2 p.m.

Seattle Man Sentenced For B.C. Robbery Try

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP).—Richard Sandergaard, 26-year-old Seattle man, was sentenced to two and one-half years in the penitentiary Wednesday following his conviction of attempted safe-cracking in New Westminster.

Police Court Magistrate G. L. Cassidy turned down a plea for clemency after Sandergaard said he would like to make restitution for damage which occurred. He was captured March 1 after two men tried to break open the safe of the New Westminster branch of the Motor Vehicle branch offices.

PRODUCTIVE FARMERS

LONDON (CP).—A report from the United Nations economic commission for Europe said British farmers were the most productive of any nation in Western Europe during 1950. It estimated each British farm worker produced £558 worth of goods, compared to £465 for Belgians in second place.

There is no "overnight cure" for irregularity

But there is a simple, natural answer to the common problem of irregularity due to lack of bulk

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way laxative makers never intended. They take "big doses" willy-nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdoing—with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage—exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong, of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely—in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE, IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

In many natural foods—such as certain vegetables, fruits, and grains—nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel, known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative food instead of a medicine". When properly processed and shredded, whole wheat bran yields smooth natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

There is no stomach upset, no churning, no after-effect except the feeling of satisfaction and fulfillment that comes with natural, normal elimination.

To obtain lasting relief, of course, Kellogg's All-Bran must be eaten regularly. You can have it for breakfast every morning secure in the knowledge that it isn't habit-forming.

More than one million servings of Kellogg's All-Bran are consumed each day. This popularity of itself is proof that this natural laxative cereal lives up to what we say about it.

But even better proof comes from thousands of satisfied All-Bran users. They write of their own free will to tell us what natural relief they receive from eating Kellogg's All-Bran daily and drinking plenty of water.

EAT KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN EVERY MORNING FOR BREAKFAST FOR 10 DAYS. THEN, IF YOU'RE NOT COMPLETELY SATISFIED, SEND THE EMPTY CARTON TO THE KELLOGG COMPANY, LONDON, ONTARIO—AND GET DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Remember—Kellogg's All-Bran has helped millions. Why not you?

PRIOR HURLS 'ROOKIES' TO WIN OVER 'VETS'

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (BUP)—British Columbia rookies and former Western International League players are making their marks in the Pacific Coast League baseball spring training camps.

Rookie first baseman Joe Clardy and pitcher Bill Prior of Victoria led the Portland first-year-men to a 3-2 win over the veterans in an intra-squad game at the Portland Beavers' camp Wednesday at Glendale, Calif. Clardy tripled and singled for the rookie team while Prior hurled tight ball.

At Palm Springs, the Seattle Rainiers dumped the San Francisco Seals 12-9 in an exhibition outing with former Vancouver Cap Gordy Brunswick smashing two home runs—one with the bases loaded.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Until now, it has been the bane of everyone's existence, not closely associated with the canine species, just why so many ribbons are given out at dog shows and included in the prize list are so many blue ribbons.

Frankly we were included in this category, but not any more, thanks to Joe Stetson, dog editor of the NEA news bureau.

So if you'll pardon the plagiarism—and as Joe says "it's simple as soon as you know the system"—here goes:

The preliminary run down is that dogs of a breed are first divided by sexes, then by classes depending on age, experience and origin. There are puppy dogs, novice dogs (those who haven't won a first in the novice class), Canadian (or American) bred dogs, and open dogs.

The first four places in each class are awarded blue, red, yellow and white ribbons in that order. Class winners compete for the "winners' dog" award, for which a championship purple ribbon is given plus championship points depending on how many dogs the champ has beaten.

Of course, if a technical error is later discovered, a dog may become a reserve champion with a purple and white ribbon.

Then follow the bitch classes along the same lines as the dogs' class. "Winners' dog" and "winners' bitch" then compete for the "best of winners" for which a blue and white ribbon is given. Still with us?

Animals entered for competition usually show in the "specials for the best-of-breed class." The "best of winners" is automatically entered, too, as not having been beaten that dog deserves the opportunity to compete for "best of breed."

To go further, when a "best of breed" has been selected, a "best opposite sex to best of breed" is chosen. This could be a champion or runner-up depending on the sexes involved.

Naturally, There Are Exceptions

There are some exceptions to the system. Novice dogs have special contests. Puppy classes are sometimes divided into age groups of six to nine, and nine to 12 months. Some breeds are divided into varieties, as miniature and toy poodles and 13-inch and 15-inch beagles.

In larger shows, too, it is customary to have separate classes for color such as brindles, fawns and harlequins in Danes, and sable, tri-color and merle in collies.

Yeah, thanks a lot Joe Stetson. It's all very simple. Now we're sure we know why which dog wins and what. Dog-gone if we don't!

PS. If anyone is still confused drop down to the Crystal Garden two weeks from Friday for the Victoria Kennel Club two-day show. Your jaw will drop even lower.

Which reminds us—why, we don't know—that more oysters come from the Chesapeake Bay area than elsewhere—some 35 million pounds annually. And also that a large oyster filters about 400 quarts of water a day!!!

VIC viewers who are also basketball fans will get a treat Friday with the game between Seattle University and the University of Washington Huskies. Billed in Seattle as "the game of the century," the game will take place at CoValls as part of the NCAA playoffs. . . for those without TV, a set will be given away at the Cougar-Flyer contest at the arena, though the post-season playoff picture on the WHL screen will likely be beset by interference.

The Vancouver Football Club of the Inter-Provincial Football Union wants a name and is starting a competition to find one . . . the main theme is that this is not only Vancouver's club, but a British Columbia entity . . . details will be announced later.

CARDINAL FARM CLUB PATRONS TO GO DRY

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Beer can no longer be sold in ball parks of the St. Louis Cardinal farm clubs, Anheuser-Busch Inc., owner of the Redbirds, announced Wednesday.

The ban applies to-Houston, Tex.; Rochester, N.Y.; Columbus, O., and Omaha, Neb.

John L. Wilson, vice-president of the brewery and executive vice-president of the ball club, said state laws in each case prohibit the sale of beer in a ball park owned by a brewery. The Cardinals' home park here is not affected.

Anyone Want To Be a Goalkeeper?

A goalie's lot is not a happy one in hockey, as Norm Jones of Navy's Commercial Hockey League club will attest. Here Jones, surrounded by Victoria Merchant forwards, stops the puck and one of his own defensemen, all in one fell swoop. Dependable rearguard Darkie Love is the Navy lead sitting astride Jones while Merchants' Ivan Wood tries to poke the puck past them. Rudy Pischco, being hounded by Navy's Orville Coulter in the background; Merchants' Ed Taylor (11), skating free as an unidentified Navy player hits the ice in the foreground. Merchants won 6-3 to go one game up in the best-of-seven league championship series.

Merchants Grab Ice Series Lead

Whip Navy In Opener Of City Final

By DENNY BOYD

Merchants 6, Navy 3

Not that they suffer from acute baldness, but Victoria Merchants appear slightly frantic to secure a head covering. And they don't want just any old chapeau—it's the Commercial Hockey League crown or nothing for the green-sweated pucksters.

Wednesday night at Memorial Arena, Merchants made the first down payment on the new lid, and their credit was grudgingly approved by Navy, 6-3 losers in the free-wheeling first game of a best-of-seven series.

Navy, because of their conquest of Merchants last year, are defenders of the regal head-gear.

Both clubs pulled out the stoppers in an effort to get the all-important first game jump, but it was Merchants who proved the better finishers, erasing two early Navy leads and finishing with a three-goal outburst in the last period.

SAIORS LEAD

Playing strong defensive hockey, Navy twice took one-goal leads in the first period but wilted in the latter going.

A freakish Merchant goal in the second period appeared to take the starch out of Navy's attack—an attack that was every bit as strong as Merchants' until that time.

With the score tied 2-2, Merchant forward Ed Taylor was working the puck behind the Navy goal. He attempted to slide a pass out in front of the goal but the pass hit Navy defenseman Stan Christensen's leg and bounced crazily into the Navy net before goalkeeper Norm Jones could move on it.

That gave Merchants a lead they never relinquished and Navy never recovered the composure that had made them a definite threat until that point.

Navy capped the lead after only 42 seconds of play. With Merchants a man short due to Ab Wiebe's kneeing penalty at 15 minutes, Ted Audette snared a pass from Del Brown, shot from the middle of the face-off circle and caught the lower right-hand corner of the rigging.

Inspired goal-tending by Norm Jones kept Merchants off the scoring map until Toby Brown flashed in a double rebound from Wiebe and Ron Bremner at 10:32.

After Merchants had hit the post twice and Joe Evans and Wiebe had out-manoeuvred themselves on a two-man break, missing an open net, Navy again took the initiative. Martin Fraser golfing in Doug Johnson's pass at 14:38.

Little more than a minute later, Brown got his second goal on a perfect feeder pass from Norm LaCree leaving it 2-2 at the end of the first period.

Taylor's fluke goal took care of the scoring in the second period and took care of Navy for the game.

WIEBE GETS PAIR

Wiebe, flying high, snapped in a pair of quickies to open the third frame and Rudy Pischco made it 6-2 as Navy began to pull an el fido. However, Orville Coulter gave Navy partisans a fleeting moment of hope when he broke through the defense to convert Russ McKay's pass into Navy's third and final goal at 18:28.

In spite of the score, it was Jones and Merchant twin-minder Ab Ellis who brought down the cheers. Both goalies were spectacular, Jones because he had more work to handle, emerging as the tragic hero of the contest. The series resumes Monday night.

COMMERCIAL SUMMARY

First period—1. Navy, Audette 4:32; 2. Merchants, Brown (Wiebe, Bremner) 10:32; 3. Navy, Fraser (Johnson) 14:41; 4. Merchants, Brown (LaCree) 18:56. Penalties: Wiebe 32, Johnson 3:42, Christensen 10:44.

Second period—5. Merchants, Taylor 2:55; Penalties: Arnold 4:31.

Third period—6. Merchants, Wiebe 2:07; 7. Merchants, Wiebe (McColl 4:08; 8. Merchants, Pischco (Wood, Taylor) 8:03; 9. Navy, Coulter (McKay) 18:28.

Royals Improve, But Lose Ullyot

New Westminster 7, Edmonton 4

The Western Hockey League fortunes of New Westminster Royals improved slightly Wednesday night, while at the same time those of the Cougars deteriorated the same extent.

Edmonton Flyers meanwhile stood still following their 7-4 loss to the Royals and awaiting Friday's game with the Cougars here.

The Royals' triumph although costing them the services of centre Ken Ullyot, made them a near cinch for a league playoff berth, and moved them to within two points of third place and the fading Vancouver Canucks.

The Flyers, also concerned with a battle for a playoff berth, dropped to fifth place.

Royals need but one win or a Cougar loss to prevent being overtaken by the Cougars; the Flyers, two victories. An Edmonton victory here Friday would just about cook the Cougar goose to the platter point, while a Cougar triumph would leave the playoff race in abeyance until the next week—final days of the season.

DISASTROUS LOSS

Ullyot joined Ollie Dorohoy on the sidelines, retiring in the first period with a shoulder separation after taking a heavy body check from Edmonton defenseman Bill Folk.

Neither Ullyot nor Ollie Dorohoy, injured in Tacoma Tuesday, may be able to resume action for two or so weeks and playoffs are approaching. Dorohoy is out with a chest injury.

HAMILTON HAT TRICK

Royals' Jackie Hamilton made up for quite a number of play-ers Wednesday night with a hat-trick in the first period which gave New Westminster a 3-2 lead.

Len Haley and Jim Uniac scored Flyers' first-period goals. Bud Poile scoring for Edmonton and Blinky Boyce counting for New Westminster in the second.

Boyce got his second goal of the night in the third period and Max McNab added two more for New Westminster. Earl Reibel scored for Flyers.

The only action tonight sends Saskatoon to Calgary.

CURLING RARITY

Rarer than golf's hole-in-one, and almost in the same category as the unassisted triple play in baseball, is the "eight-end" in curling.

Not only must every one of the rocks of the rink scoring the eight-end "bite" some portion of the house, but as well, all rocks thrown by the opposition must fall by the wayside.

The wonder is there ever is an eight-end made.

Today's diagram illustrates such an end made in top company, by Ken Watson, Winnipeg, in the 1949 Brier play-downs.

Numbers beside each black stone show the order in which the shots were made. They are worth some study as an almost perfect example of positional play.

Watson kept the house open, thereby allowing little to play to, and his opponent's rocks kept sliding through the house on very keen ice.

No. 9 is the last opposition rock. It raised No. 3 a few inches. No. 8 was the final shot to complete the eight-end.

GLOSSARY
Striking—The act of one rock hitting another.
Lifting—Striking a stone on the inner edge to roll closer to the tee.
Drawing—Playing a stone to come to rest in the house.
Guarding—Covering a rock already counting to make it most difficult for the opponent to come to it.
Chip and Lie—Similar to striking, but having the played stone remain in play.

Howe Nears Goal Mark

Detroit 2, New York 0

They'll be setting them up in the other alley tonight for Detroit Red Wings as the newly-crowned champions of the National Hockey League go hunting for more NHL records to break at Boston.

Master of the hunt is Gordie Howe, who rewrote the record book every time he scores a point now that he's passed his own previous high of 86. He picked up number 92 Wednesday night as he scored one of the goals that gave the Wings a 2-0 victory over the last-place New York Rangers.

The goal was Gordie's 47th, leaving him six games in which to net the three he needs to tie Maurice Richard's mark of 50.

HAWKS BEWARE
Howe's prospects of passing the Montreal Canadian sharpshooter look bright. Three of Detroit's remaining games are against Chicago Black Hawks, a club that Detroit has beaten with consistency all season and which is particularly kind to Howe.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk scored his eighth shutout Wednesday night, maintaining a 13-goal edge over Montreal's Gerry McNeil, his nearest competitor.

THE WONDER
The wonder is there ever is an eight-end made.

Today's diagram illustrates such an end made in top company, by Ken Watson, Winnipeg, in the 1949 Brier play-downs.

Numbers beside each black stone show the order in which the shots were made. They are worth some study as an almost perfect example of positional play.

Watson kept the house open, thereby allowing little to play to, and his opponent's rocks kept sliding through the house on very keen ice.

No. 9 is the last opposition rock. It raised No. 3 a few inches. No. 8 was the final shot to complete the eight-end.

GLOSSARY
Striking—The act of one rock hitting another.
Lifting—Striking a stone on the inner edge to roll closer to the tee.
Drawing—Playing a stone to come to rest in the house.
Guarding—Covering a rock already counting to make it most difficult for the opponent to come to it.
Chip and Lie—Similar to striking, but having the played stone remain in play.

Sauer's Bat Boosts Cub Stock, Dark Fits in Giants' New Plan

Hank Sauer, the National League's most valuable player, was picking up right where he left off in 1952 today while Alvin Dark, the league's all-star shortstop, embarked on a new career as a second baseman.

Both players may hold the key to successful seasons for their clubs—as well as new contracts for managers Phil Cavarretta and Leo Durocher. Cavarretta, striving to lift the Cubs into the first division, is counting on Sauer for another great season while Durocher, his sights set on a pennant, is gambling that the 30-year-old Dark can switch to second base and make way for rookie Dary Spencer at short.

So far, Cavarretta's faith in Sauer has been justified. Many experts predicted that Sauer's brilliant 1952 season, in which he led the league in runs batted in and tied for the lead in homers, was a "one-year fling."

But the 205-pound slugger already has blasted three home runs and knocked in 10 runs in the Cubs' five Grapefruit League games.

The Giants, who have been making more than their share of news this spring, began Durocher's "great experiment" in a 7-3 triumph over the White Sox. The first reaction proved favorable.

Spencer, a 23-year-old 200-pounder with the cannon arm and wide range required of a stand-out shortstop, handled six chances and also contributed three safeties to the Giants' 10-hit attack. Dark, whose weak arm often led him into "hurry-up errors" on routine chances at short, appeared perfectly natural at second and turned in one dazzling stop.

DUNCAN — North Cowichan, B.C.'s third oldest municipality, has passed the $10,000,000 mark in total assessments by $51,965.

The proposed secession of Chemainus to form a separate municipality would deprive the present municipality of about half its taxable values, while establishing a municipality centred on Chemainus.

NANAIMO — Empire Day celebrations committee has elected Frank Ney of the newly formed Junior Chamber of Commerce as chairman for 1953. At the request of Mayor George Muir, the junior chamber has taken over sponsorship of the celebration.

New Purse Pact Ends Track Boycott

MERCED, Calif. (AP) — The Boycott of Tanforan race track by the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association and the Jockey's Guild was ended here Wednesday.

The vans will start moving north from Santa Anita immediately and the Tanforan meeting will swing into normal.

Leading western horsemen met here this morning under the chairmanship of Dwight Murphy of Santa Barbara, chairman of the State Racing Board, to work out a plan to end the boycott.

At Tanforan, a management statement gave the settlement minimum guarantee as $1,080,000, instead of $1,097,000, explaining the discrepancy as a difference in the calculation of "breakage," which the track receives on all wagering up to $27,000,000.

Tanforan manager Fred H. Ryan said the settlement approximated the 40 per cent profit split sought by the horsemen, but that it did not bind the track management to any set percentage deal.

The boycott started over a demand of the horsemen that the purses total 40 per cent of the track's share of the handle.

No-Tampering Grid Rule Approved

EDMONTON (CP) — The Western Interprovincial Football Union has a no-tampering agreement giving its clubs first call on junior prospects in their own territory. The ruling, reached at the WIFU annual meeting in Regina in January, was disclosed by Edmonton Eskimo president Ken Montgomery at a Wednesday gathering of press and club executives. Montgomery said the no-tampering rule applies until July 10, after which clubs may go into another team's territory and pluck unclaimed prospects.

MASTER CLOCK

MOLESEY, England (CP) — Sydney Smith, 72-year-old electrician, has developed a radio-controlled clock which will be manufactured. The clocks are controlled by a master station sending impulses on a low wave-length.

BRENTWOOD — V. C. Dawson, chairman of Brentwood Waterworks District, announced at its annual meeting this week that a 10 per cent reduction in the levy will be made this year.

There are now 196 connections, he said, and a surplus of $1,569 in the account. Bonded indebtedness has been reduced by $7,000, he said.

NANAIMO — Charge of assaulting a seaman during a fracas in a dance hall here, laid against Roger Delcourt, Ladysmith, must wait until the seaman who laid the charge returns from a three-week cruise aboard the oceanography vessel Cedarwood.

COURTENAY — City council's concern over the sudden entry of three frozen food plan concerns has resulted in the withholding of business licenses until the city solicitor gives a recommendation.

"If we grant licenses to these concerns that are carrying on a sort of mail order business on a call-office system, we will have the established merchants down our necks," said Mayor Joe Hitchen.

"SAUCE FOR GOOSE" — In court at Brantford, Ont., Mrs. Dorothy Adams described how she had been beaten with a leather cat-o-nine-tails by her husband, Donald Adams. Mrs. Adams said he struck her five times across her bare back and threatened to "use wire" instead of leather if he caught her smoking again. Adams was sentenced to 30 days in jail and 10 strokes of the strap.

Seer Who Predicted Stalin's Death Sees Trouble for Malenkov

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UP) — The seer who predicted Stalin's death almost to the day said today that Stalin's successor, Georgi Malenkov, is in for lots of trouble in holding together the empire his master handed down to him.

"I prophesy plenty of discord in the satellites," said the seer, regrettably refusing permission to use his name.

"We who scan the skies for Old Moore's Almanac and Raphael's Almanac must do so anonymously," he said, passing up a chance for immortality in psychic literature.

With understandable pride he pointed to his prediction, made last year, for the March, 1953, calendar page of Raphael's Almanac.

It read: "Saturn, rising in Moscow, constitutes a threat of national mourning in the Soviet—perhaps for Stalin."

The prediction was spotted for the middle of March.

"I knew it was Stalin all right — I immediately cast his horoscope and came up with the confirmation. But we always are really pretty cautious, you know. So I made it a little indefinite on purpose."

Old Moore's and Raphael's have been publishing since 1697. They claim innumerable direct hits such as the dropping of the atomic bomb, the date of the British general strike (1926), the abdication of the Duke of Windsor, among other predictions.

In the next edition the Malenkov prediction will join the list.

"I use the word 'discord' rather than trouble," the seer said, "because I see a process of steady worsening friction in East Europe rather than a spectacular deterioration."

B.C. Opposition Members Charge Federal Budget Hits Low-Earner

OTTAWA (CP)—Two British Columbia members, one a Progressive Conservative and the other a CCF, said Wednesday that the government has forgotten the low-income earner.

Howard Green (PC, Vancouver-Quadra) said the government has "discarded its hair shirt for striped pants." For years the government had claimed it was protecting the working man. The 1953-54 budget "shows how phoney that appeal has been."

Angus MacInnis (CCF, Vancouver East) said the wealthy will benefit most from the tax relief in the budget.

"Before we begin to give handouts to the well-to-do, we should try to clean up some of these festering sores on our own doorstep," said Mr. MacInnis, referring particularly to housing conditions in various parts of the country.

Opening proceedings were marked by two divisions. Members voted 140 to 50 against a motion by John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) for tabling of correspondence dealing with a transfer of the manager of the government-owned Canadian National Railways' Fort Garry Hotel at Winnipeg.

Minutes later, members voted 138 to 51 against another attempt by E. D. Fulton (PC, Kamloops) to obtain reports on defense department administration.

In the debate, Mr. Green said that only a new government could make substantial savings.

He referred to speculation that the government will postpone an election until next spring. Liberal members, he said, are now finding out that the 1953-54 budget isn't so "wonderful."

Mr. Green suggested that working mothers should be allowed to deduct for income tax purposes the expenses of caring for their children during their working hours.

Out-of-town travel and living expenses of building trades should be deductible, he said.

The government should repeal the sales tax on goods purchased by municipalities, or manufactured by them for their own use, he said, and the federal government should stop "over-taxing" the taxpayers at their income sources. This year some 2,000,000 Canadians would get back about $85,000,000 which the government had collected.

Tiny Island Hit By Tidal Waves

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty-foot tidal waves early Wednesday struck the tiny island of Hachijo, 150 miles south of Tokyo, the maritime safety board reported. The board said there was no loss of life or damage. Six waves hit the island within an hour. The waves may have been caused by another eruption from the underwater, Miyojin volcano, which has erupted several times in recent months.

The federal government paid 50 per cent of the cost of construction of the Pattullo Bridge at New Westminster, as the bridge was a part of the Trans-Canada Highway. Mayor Claude Harrison was advised today from Ottawa. The city requested information on government aid for bridges, during discussion on the Point Ellice Bridge recently.

Total Defense Plan to Cost $5 Billion

RIVERS, Man. (CP) The cost of Canada's three-year defense program by the time it is complete in 1954 will be $5,227,000,000, Defense Minister Claxton said Wednesday.

Speaking to members of army and air force staff colleges at Rivers air station, Mr. Claxton said the figure included expenditures so far and a reasonable estimate for the balance. It included $1,172,000,000 for personnel, $2,729,000,000 for equipment and $1,303,000,000 for operations and maintenance.

The minister said this expenditure will not complete the program, but 1954 objectives will be met on time. The program costs more for each of the three years than was spent at the peak of the war, but it is "being paid for as we go."

Mr. Claxton remained at Rivers overnight.

Funeral Services Friday for Sam Mars

Samuel Mars, a resident of Victoria for 42 years and a life member of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, died Tuesday in Veterans' Hospital here. He was 75.

He is survived by his wife Jean, at the family residence, 1027 McCaskill Street; one daughter, Mrs. May Peterson Victoria, and four sons, James R. Mars, Victoria; Robert Mars, Sydney, Australia; Daniel Polack and Andrew Pollack, Victoria.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p.m. at McCaul Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. T. H. McAllister will officiate. Interment will be at Colwood Burial Park.

Man Born With Embryo Baby in Chest, Dies

LIMA, O. (AP)—Clifford Stanyer, dairy farmer who had an embryonic twin removed from his spine a few weeks ago in a rare operation, died today of a heart ailment.

Physicians said the death of the 61-year-old man could not be attributed to the Jan. 30 operation. Surgeons cut from the spinal canal some hair and skin tissue they said belonged to Stanyer's undeveloped twin.

The object was about five inches long and about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. It had begun to choke nerve elements of Stanyer's legs.

Final Rites Saturday For Father J. R. Buckley

A pontifical requiem mass will be sung at 10 a.m. Tuesday by the Most Rev. James M. Hill, Bishop of Victoria, for Rev. Father John R. Buckley, well-known former pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Willows, who died Wednesday. He was 68 years old.

Born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Father Buckley served in the Diocese of Victoria for over 40 years. He was pastor of the Willows church from 1919.

Father Buckley was forced to give up his pastorate because of illness about three years ago. He died at Mount St. Mary's. The remains will lie in state at Lourdes Church from Sunday evening until Tuesday morning. Prayers will be offered Sunday and Monday at 8 p.m.

AN and AF Veterans Honored at Dinner

Seventy-five life members of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans were entertained at a dinner and concert held at the club Tuesday night. Fourteen of the guests were 80 years of age.

Oldest was Albert Sartin, 89, who enlisted in 1880, served in Egypt, the Sudan, the Far East and South Africa before 1900. Fred Bowcott, 84, who served in Hong Kong 65 years ago; Seymour Rowlinson, 82; William Jackson, 84; and James Johnson, 86, were also in the honored group.

Peter George Hartnell, owner of Thunderbird Apartments, 600 Douglas Street, next to the Glenshiel Hotel, has written the city Wednesday supporting the application of the hotel owners for a zoning by-law amendment. The amendment would permit the Glenshiel to open its coffee bar to the public. Application for rezoning was turned down recently by the City Council.

New Submission Asked In Tony Poje Appeal

The Supreme Court of Canada still has made no decision in the Tony Poje appeal case. Alex B. Macdonald, Vancouver lawyer who carried the appeal of the IWA official to the Ottawa court, revealed Wednesday that he had been asked by the court to submit further written submissions concerning certain points in dispute to the court by March 15.

A decision in the case may not come until the end of the month or early April.

Poje, business agent for the IWA at Nanaimo, was convicted in B.C. Supreme Court for contempt of court after he led pickets onto Nanaimo Assembly Wharf during the IWA strike of last summer, in spite of a court injunction which forbade picketing there.

Poje was fined $3,000 and sentenced to three months in jail for his action. Before B.C. Court of Appeal, Poje's bid to have the conviction quashed was turned down 2 to 1 by the presiding judges.

The Canadian Westinghouse Ltd. plans to give two identical electric washers and clothes driers to parents of all twins born in Canada on St. Patrick's Day.

The company must be notified by collect wire to headquarters in Hamilton, Ont., of the birth of twins between midnight, March 16, and midnight, March 17.

Fishermen Urge Fight for Market

VANCOUVER (CP).—A campaign to regain canned salmon markets was proposed here at the annual convention of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, AFL.

The report of the executive urged the federal government take practical steps to overcome the surplus salmon problem to regain "historic markets."

It was proposed the Prices Support Board assume part of the burden of the present salmon carryover and establish floor prices. The carryover is estimated at 600,000 cases.

It was also recommended that a salmon price conference be held next month, bringing together the Native Brotherhood, Vessel Owners' Association and the UFAWU "to develop the maximum possible unity for negotiations."

The executive recommended a "cautious but firm" approach in fish price negotiations this year.

"We certainly would not welcome lengthy strikes in order to finalize price agreements," said the report from the officers now before the convention. "At the same time we cannot throw away the strike weapon and rely on the tender mercies of the market situation as interpreted by the B.C. Fisheries Association."

The executive suggested that a sizable strike fund be built up at union headquarters and in every local. Union members were warned to improve relationships with Native Brotherhood members "to protect the interests of all fishing industry workers."

COSTLY THEFTS

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Mrs. W. Grant McConachie, mother of Grant McConachie, is going to Honolulu for a holiday. She has booked passage in RMS Aorangi.

This is of mild interest to all of Grant's friends and business associates, because Grant—as you probably know—is president of Canadian Pacific Airlines, operators of an excellent air service between Vancouver and Honolulu.

For some reason, the above item reminds me of a romantic honeymoon enjoyed by a TCA pilot and his bride.

The marriage occurred some years ago, and the groom had carefully planned a flying honeymoon through the United States.

As an airline pilot, he was accorded courtesy passes by his own and the U.S. air companies, so his honeymoon promised to be economical as well as pleasant.

Well, one of the hazards of traveling on an airline pass is the possibility you may be "bumped" in favor of a revenue passenger. In other words, if a paying passenger turns up at the last minute, the free traveler is removed to await the next vacant seat.

(Don't go away—I'm getting to the point as quickly as possible.)

After the morning wedding, the happy couple hurried to Vancouver airport, and boarded the TCA flight for Seattle. And in Seattle—you've guessed it—a revenue passenger turned up, and the bride and groom were told there was only one free seat.

Naturally, they were disappointed, but the bride said with a pretense of gaiety: "You go ahead, dear. I'll follow as soon as there's a place for me."

But the groom would have none of this. "We'll toss for it," he said, firmly.

They did, and the groom won, and the bride caught up to him in Chicago three days later.

It is amazing how some of Victoria's buildings get wanderlust.

Last Saturday, the official program of the Western Forest Industries Association stated the convention was being held at "The Empress Hotel, Vancouver."

And the current issue of Mayfair magazine carries a photograph of Logan Mayhew's "home in Vancouver."

I do not mind them sending our buildings over to the mainland, but please do not start taking away our leading families.

I have been asked to explain what happened to the masthead on the first page of the second section, day before yesterday.

The masthead is the "trademark" of the paper, carried at the top of the page, as follows:

VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

Day before yesterday, the masthead read:

VICTORIA TIMES DAILY

The explanation is quite simple. A starry-eyed compositor was coining a new slogan. The complete slogan reads: "Victoria Times Daily Equals your Favorite Newspaper."

However, it is expected reconstruction will be finished next week.

SWAMI WANTS TO STAY

Married to Canadian, Yoga Yearns for 'Home'

Immigration officials in Vancouver are considering an application of Alberta (Swami) Shivananda, Indian yogi disciple who gave a series of lessons in Victoria last year, for entry into Canada as a permanent Canadian resident.

Shivananda is now living in Bellingham, Wash., awaiting the outcome of his application to enter Canada.

It is expected his application will be approved because the Brahmin is married to a Canadian, living in Vancouver.

She is the former Mrs. Darline Stanley, of Regina. He met her while lecturing on Yoga in Vancouver last year. They were married six months ago in Vancouver, Wash.

Prior to his marriage and departure to the United States last year, Shivananda became involved in a dispute with the Canadian Sikh population in Victoria and Vancouver. He hinted that Sikhs in Vancouver were putting pressure on the immigration department to have him leave the country because they were against the Yoga philosophy.

East Indians and immigration department denied the allegations.

Elderly Pair Charged Here With Assault

Name-Calling Fracas Blamed

A man and woman, aged 84 and 75 years respectively, were among five persons charged in city police court today with assault causing bodily harm and common assault.

They were Phillip Phinnes and Margaret Beasley, both of 530 Selkirk, charged with assaulting and injuring a younger woman, Hilda Wilkins, of 532 Selkirk.

Mrs. Wilkins was charged with a similar assault of the older pair.

All pleaded not guilty and were remanded to March 19 for trial. According to the police report charges apparently arose from a scuffle over name-calling March 5.

STREET FRACAS

Navy brothers Anthony and Joseph Follino, HMCS Naden, were charged with assaulting and causing bodily harm to Sidney Hayward, St. James Hotel.

They were remanded to March 16 after both accused said they wished time to contact a lawyer.

The assault is alleged to have taken place March 8 in the 700 block of Yates Street. Hayward is doorman at the Waldorf Cafe, 741 Yates.

Henry Benson, 2547 Government Street, pleaded guilty to assaulting William Lushaw, Victoria, and was fined $20 by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Lushaw told Magistrate Hall Benson "barged" into his home on the early morning of March 8 and "hit me while I was sound asleep."

Benson told the court his actions resulted from Lushaw calling a lady friend of his "names that shouldn't be used in the court."

Magistrate Hall warned Benson that he may face a more serious charge if such a thing happened again "for you've no right to break into another man's place."

Resident for Half Century Passes Here

THE LATE N. R. FOXGORD

Neils Rasmussen Foxgord, a resident of Victoria for more than 50 years, died this morning in Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was 89.

He was well known here. Before his retirement, he had his own plumbing business.

Born in Harskine, Denmark, he emigrated to the United States as a young man; married in San Francisco; moved to Hawaii and then settled in Victoria.

He and his wife celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary last May 7.

Besides his wife, at the family home, 1609 Gladstone Avenue, he leaves two sons, Stanley and Leslie, and one daughter, Mrs. Bertha Jaynes, all of Victoria, six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. at S. G. White will officiate. Interment will be at Ross Bay Cemetery.

In upper picture Pamela Pendray paints while Duncan de Kergommeaux and Jan Zach exchange ideas on mural. Below, Mr. Zach gives a few hints to Mrs. Lillian Rogers, artist who executed second work of art.

WORK OF CITY STUDENTS

Bright Murals Grace Newsroom at Times

By A. M. THOMAS

Nearing completion in the Times' section of the Victoria Press Ltd. building are the first murals ever commissioned in Canada for the newsroom of a daily newspaper.

The inspiration of Jan Zach, internationally known painter and sculptor, in co-operation with Stuart Keate, publisher of The Victoria Daily Times, the murals are the work of two young Victoria artist-students, Mrs. Lillian Rogers, 426 St. Lawrence Street, and Duncan de Kergommeaux, 160 Beechwood Avenue. Both have been working under Mr. Zach for nearly two years.

They were named for the work after a competition participated in between 40 and 50 members of Mr. Zach's night school art class.

The murals cover the upper portion of two of the four walls of the newsroom and are wholly dissimilar both in conception and execution. Mrs. Rogers' work is the softer in tone and more directly representational in character compared to Mr. de Kergommeaux's vividly contrasting colors and powerfully imaginative design.

UNIQUE EXAMPLES

Mr. Zach believes that in addition to being the first murals to adorn a working newsroom, they are unique in being the only examples of this art form in Canada in whose creation the artists have been entirely free to express their own ideas.

"The form of most murals," Mr. Zach explains, "is usually dictated by the owners of the building for which they are intended and this usually limits the artist to some particular aspect of business or a specific phase of history."

The Times murals, he said, are completely free of these limitations. They were conceived, he said, in the course of a talk with Mr. Keate on art in general, and the lack of opportunity afforded young artists, in particular.

In the main, they deal with aspects of newspaper life.

When he suggested that two of his most advanced and promising students could create work worthy of public display, Mr. Keate readily agreed to co-operate.

The murals are the result.

TAUGHT IN BRAZIL

Mr. Zach was born in Czechoslovakia and came to this continent in 1938 to work on Czech buildings in the New York World's Fair. He remained on this side of the Atlantic in consequence of the Nazi march into his native land and in 1940 went to Brazil where he spent the next 11 years, conducting art classes and working on commissions in various parts of the country. It was in Brazil that he met and married the former Judith Monk of Victoria, who was working in the Canadian Legation.

They came to Canada in 1951, when Mr. Zach conducted the summer school of art at Banff and continued on to Victoria, where they have since resided at the old Emily Carr home on St. Andrews Street.

Mr. Zach's night school classes, under Greater Victoria School Board auspices, are conducted in a studio in the Pemberton, Holmes Building at Government and Broughton Streets.

Both Mrs. Rogers and Mr. de Kergommeaux first came under Mr. Zach's tuition at the Banff summer school and continued their studies here, the latter having to move his family from his home at Prince Rupert for the purpose.

TALENTED STUDENT

Victoria-born Mrs. Rogers, the former Lillian Emerson, took an interest in art early in life and studied in Saturday classes of Mrs. Ina Unthoff, at night school and later at the Vancouver School of Art. Before studying with Mr. Zach, who describes her as "very talented," she worked on commercial art.

Mr. de Kergommeaux had no formal art schooling before he met Mr. Zach at the Banff summer school but is possessed, according to his teacher, of "great native talent."

He is inclined to abstraction as the form of his mural in The Times office suggests, and his last two purely abstract works were exhibited in shows at Seattle and Vancouver.

For both artists Mr. Zach predicts futures of great promise.

Rezoning Opposed By Restaurateur

Opposition to any rezoning of the Glenahiel Hotel property to permit opening of the hotel dining room and coffee shop to the public, was voiced today by Philip Chan, president, Victoria Branch, Canadian Restaurant Association.

In a letter to the mayor and council, he said another restaurant operator could not erect a business in the same area because it is zoned for apartments, not commercial use.

Counsel Reprimanded When Order Repealed

Judge Claims Arbitration Decision On Shipyard Dispute Not Disclosed

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane today repealed an injunction order he made 10 days ago and reprimanded Victoria lawyer George Gregory for not presenting "all the facts" at the time the order was made.

The development means boilermakers at Victoria Machinery Depot will again have the right to do all major drilling work which is required in the yard.

The injunction, made by Mr. Justice Macfarlane March 2, on application by Mr. Gregory on behalf of the Machinists, Fitters' and Helpers' Union, Local No. 3 (CCL), provided that boilermakers were not to have exclusive right to drill holes in ships under construction.

Today, Joseph McKenna, Q.C., appeared in Supreme Court chambers on behalf of Victoria Lodge No. 191 of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers (TLC), to ask that the injunction be set aside. Mr. McKenna argued on grounds that the injunction had been granted "on suppression of a material fact."

Mr. McKenna submitted as "the material fact" a certified copy of a majority arbitration board report, made Feb. 11, 1953, giving members of the boilermakers' union exclusive right to drilling of holes more than one-quarter inch in diameter in the VMD yard.

Mr. McKenna complained that Mr. Gregory, at the time he sought the injunction, had not brought this to the court's attention.

"If it had been, you would not have made that order," he told the judge.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane, turning to Mr. Gregory, declared: "If you knew of it, you should have disclosed it. This is a material fact."

ADMITTS KNOWLEDGE

Mr. Gregory admitted knowledge of the arbitration award but argued: "We were not a party to that arbitration and I took the view it was not material."

"Well, it is material," the judge exclaimed. "It's obviously material. This is a concrete document."

The judge said he had issued the injunction purely on grounds that there had been a breach of contract on the part of VMD with respect to its contract with the machinists.

He said the first inkling he had that an arbitration board decision had been rendered on the jurisdictional question was when he read a newspaper account following the issuing of his injunction.

The judge dealt at length with the necessity of counsel presenting all the facts in seeking injunction orders.

LEGISLATURE SITS TONIGHT

The B.C. Legislature will sit tonight at 8 or 8.30. The lawmakers will continue consideration of 1953-54 estimates.

American Consul Will Take Charge In City March 18

Rufus Herman Lane, Jr., who recently completed a tour of duty in Paris, is expected to take over as consul in charge of the United States Consulate here March 18.

Philip Ernst, consul since Frederick Hink's departure for Paris last fall, will remain as second in command.

Born in Ohio in 1901, Mr. Lane was trained as an engineer and joined the U.S. Foreign Service in 1924. Since that time he has served in Greece, India, Mexico, Costa Rica, Chile and Spain. At his Paris post he was consul and first secretary of the embassy.

FRIDAY 13TH LUCKY FOR TWO

Draw From Hat to Decide Coronation Trip Winners

Two Greater Victoria high school students will be walking on air Friday morning.

It may be Friday the 13th but there will be nothing unlucky about the day when the names of two out of 10 candidates for a trip to the Coronation will be drawn from a hat at the offices of the Greater Victoria school board about 10.30 a.m.

The 10 candidates were selected from the five Greater Victoria high schools. The lucky pair will represent not only the school system but the community, according to J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Is the public in general allowed to sit in on parliament during a session? Are there any particular hours?—N.H.B.

A.—There are public galleries to which the public is admitted in the House of Commons in Ottawa and all the Provincial Legislative Assemblies. The B.C. Legislature, now in session, usually sits at 2.30 p.m. Night sittings, usually at 8.30 may be called from time to time, notice to this effect customarily being given in advance.

It is advisable for members of the public to present themselves at the main doors of the Parliament buildings well in advance of time of sitting in order to be directed to the gallery and to obtain a seat. Q.—Could you tell me the origin of Mother Shipton and her verses?—B. T.

A.—Mother Shipton is a reputed witch and prophetess who is supposed to have lived in early Tudor times. There is no really trustworthy evidence of her existence but tradition has it that she was born about 1486 to a peasant family named Southill in Yorkshire and 24 years later married Tobias Shipton of York. Her "prophecies" were first published by one Richard Head in London in 1684. Her whole history rests on the flimsiest authority.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

SHOPPING GUIDE

All the Better to See Yourself in, My Dear!

By PENNY SAVER

If you are interested in the very latest in purses, you must see the "box" shape ones. On this style, you raise the lid just as though it were a picnic basket and it even has a large 4x6 1/2-inch mirror clasped to the underside. No more peering into a tiny mirror or poking furtively into dark depths trying to find something.

Smooth leather, in such beautiful shades as red, navy, and the new wild honey, they are priced at $14.95. With shoes to match, obtainable in varied styles, you will trip along as proudly as little Red Riding Hood. This new fashion was recently featured in "Mademoiselle".

Girls will find many smart ways to wear the new Shape and Drape "Pleated Puff," at 69 cents. In a variety of colors, it can be worn with sweaters, suits, coats, dresses or blouses. It is a double triangle shape scarf that can also be worn as a hair bandeau. Ask for the little card that demonstrates no less than six ways to arrange it. Brand new and different, and so far only obtainable in this one shop.

They also have gay polka dot jockey caps, with matching drawstring purse, in navy, red, green or beige taffeta. The purses are well-lined, priced $3.95, and the caps are $4.95. There is a Roman stripe or plaid taffeta made up in either cloche hat or jockey cap, with purses, at the same price.

Another problem is solved for us all in the new Hide-a-Bra pucker nylon blouse, at $6.95. Now you can have all the advantages of nylon without that extreme sheerness. This attractive new style has a tailored collar that can be worn closed or opened to a slenderizing "V" neckline. Short sleeves, novelty flower buttons, in white only.

Then, for you of the swan necks, there is a lovely Perma-Pleat nylon blouse, with a stand-up Elizabethan collar, finished with a tiny picot-edge ribbon bow. In soft blue or white, it has three-quarter push-up sleeves with dainty lace insert in the narrow pleated cuff. Price is $9.95, sizes 12-18.

Youth Groups Very Active

Youth work was highlighted at today's session of the annual meeting of the B.C. Diocesan Board of Women's Auxiliary, Church of England in Canada, in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. H. G. Horth, girls' secretary, reported a membership of 230, an increase of 99 over last year. New and reorganized branches included St. Luke's, St. Saviour's and St. Alban's, Victoria; Cobble Hill and Christ Church, Alert Bay. Cowichan Station and Quamichan amalgamated to form one branch.

Social service done by these girls included assistance given to families of new Canadians, donations to Save the Children Fund, and baby sitting without charge to many young mothers.

Twenty girls attended Camp Columbia, three assisting in the camp kitchen; 70 badge awards were made and two leaders' conferences held. Highlight of the year was a Spring Festival during Easter week in which 150 girls from all parts of the diocese took part. Total monies given to various diocesan groups was $375.87.

Twenty-two active branches were reported by Mrs. W. Lowery, juniors' secretary, including four new branches at Alberni, Duncan, Colwood and Ganges. A rally was held in the autumn when 98 children from Victoria and outlying districts participated.

Total receipts were $379.73 and disbursements $363.06. Reporting for Little Helpers, the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Harris announced 47 branches with a membership of 2,691. Two branches, St. Columba and View Royal were reorganized and three new groups at Ladysmith and Shawinigan Lake, were formed. Mite box offerings amounted to $712, an increase of $100 over last year.

Special Projects Receive Grants

A bursary of $200 given to the Anglican Theological College where 23 theological students are at present in training, and an additional $213.35 given for repair and maintenance of the college was reported by Lady Lake at annual meeting of the British Columbia Diocesan WA board continuing yesterday at Memorial Hall.

Mrs. S. H. Brake reporting for Caroline Macklem Home committee stated there are 25 women now in residence, no vacancies and a number of applications on the waiting list.

Following treasurer's report, $160 in balance of funds was voted to the stipend of a worker at Whaletown; Miss Hasell's van work was given $100; St. Faith's Bishops Messengers, $75; Anglican Women's Training College, $100; appeals from Dominion WA board were given $200 and $144.67 was voted to the Diocese of Amaritza, Pakistan. Collections amounting to $124.66 were turned over for work in Japan.

The pledge of $5,211 was accepted for 1953, being the same as last year.

Following Extra Cents report given by Mrs. G. W. Lifton, a total of $465 was voted to various appeals which included among others, repairs to Whaletown vicarage, donation toward hall at Lake Cowichan and funds for Camp Columbia.

Prayer Partner report was given by Mrs. A. F. C. Watt and Living Message by Miss C. Millard.

Greetings to the board from sister societies were presented by Mrs. H. J. Warren, Presbyterian WMS; Mrs. N. J. McIntyre, United Church WMS; and Mrs. N. Phillips, Baptist WMS.

Mrs. N. Nanton, Saskatoon, and Mrs. A. W. Rose, Winnipeg, were welcomed. Noonday prayers were led by Canon Greenhalgh who in his address paid enthusiastic tribute to Miss Alice Turner who started the Diocesan WA.

Speaking of her impressions on England when she attended the Festival of Britain, Mrs.

Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., gave a vivid and clear-cut picture of life in England. She spoke of the tidiness and orderliness of the land, the fresh, green countryside with its neat fields and farms and the friendliness of the people.

"One is impressed," she said, "with the enduring continuity of Britain, the centuries of history and pagantry that have passed over the country and above all the unconquerable soul of her people who have borne up under many years of austerity during the past two decades."

Following the meeting tea was served in St. John's Parish Hall where members were welcomed by Mrs. T. Griffiths, president of St. John's afternoons WA. Presiding at the tea table which was centred with a bowl of pink tulips and blue iris were Mrs. R. A. Bell, president of the Ladies' Guild and Mrs. T. Vickers.

Liberal Tea—Plans for a tea were made at a recent meeting of the WA to the Saanich Liberal Association which was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ash, 3837 Cumberland. The affair will be held March 24 at Liberal women's room, 322A Government Street at 2.30. There will be a guest speaker. Bingo will be held after the next meeting of Saanich Liberal Association next Tuesday, under auspices of the auxiliary, who have undertaken to act as social committee for the association. Next meeting will be held March 23 at 2 in the home of Mrs. Ash at which time plans will be completed and discussion continued with reference to the setting up of a social program for the Saanich Liberal Association. Anyone interested may have further information through Mrs. Ash, Mrs. Lea or the recording secretary, Mrs. Gordon, G 9226.

Father Advised to Limit Daughter's Phone Talks

By ELIZABETH R. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Talking endlessly and often over the telephone may be a pleasant occupation for some people, but it can be a time-waster. That is why I am advising the father of this teenage girl to cut down on the time his daughter spends at the telephone. He writes:

(Q)—"My daughter is a senior in high school. My problem is that she is on the telephone for an hour or longer when her boy friend calls. Don't you think the time of her telephone calls should be limited and much shorter? About how much time would you suggest, and should I make her abide by it? I feel that she should give her boy friend the impression that she is a busy girl and has no time for gossip on the telephone. She has plenty to do besides her school work, music lessons, choir, and other activities."

(A)—Your daughter is spending much too much time on the telephone. She may enjoy her visits with the boy, she likes, and it may give her a sense of importance to be able to boast to her friends about these conversations. But, as you say, there are other things to be considered than the pleasures of the moment.

As a senior, she must have plenty of school work to do, and she should not neglect her outside activities. It is bad business to get into the habit of talking endlessly over the phone. It leads to idle gossip, which is bad. It creates the impression that she has little to do or few other people to talk to. It is encouraging the boy to waste his time as well as hers.

Ten to 15 minutes is quite long enough for any telephone call, unless it is a business call or an emergency which can be met only over the telephone. Set this limit, and make it a hard and fast rule which must be obeyed.

Put a clock in the room where the telephone is, and tell your daughter she must watch her time. When she goes to the telephone, make a mental note of when it was. Then, when the time limit is reached, go in and tell her to say "good-bye" and hang up. After a few such experiences, she will learn to budget her talking time to avoid further embarrassment.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

MONTREAL, March 12th—Who says women can't agree? All of my friends and, incidentally, their husbands, too, agree wholeheartedly on the subject of soup. They like Heinz, and now I hear that, in dozens of recent taste-tests, HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS scored top ratings with groups of dieticians, housewives and women office workers. There's popularity for you! And, if you'll make a taste-test of your own, I'm sure you'll agree it's well deserved popularity. Just heat a tin of Heinz Condensed Soup and a tin of any other brand. Serve half-helpings of each. Then take a vote. My bet is that it will be 2 to 1 for Heinz!

Coffee and Cake, Coffee and Cake! What a good combination they make! Especially when the coffee is INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE. That's the "instant" made by coffee experts. The flavour's there—and the body—and the real, delightful lift. And that's not all you'll like about Instant Chase & Sanborn. You'll appreciate its wonderful economy. The regular-size jar of Instant Chase & Sanborn gives you the same number of cups as a pound of ground coffee and there's a BIG difference in price. Instant Chase & Sanborn is quick and easy to make, too. Takes no longer to make than boiling the water—and it's as easy to make ten cups as one.

Spring Is In The Air and, if you're like me, you'll be planning to make a suit for Spring's lovely days. Yes, I'm "stocking up" now on lightweight suiting material, and a LIGHTNING FASTENER for the skirt. Style No. 805 is the ideal zipper for skirts. It's the one Canada's leading women's suit manufacturers choose, for they know that only Lightning gives you everything you need for zipper satisfaction. It's fine, it's flexible, and it never slides down—the secret automatic lock makes sure of that. Every Lightning has it, and only Lightning has it. Be sure, then, to ask for Lightning No. 805. You can get it in any colour and length you need, and you'll fit your suit with the finest.

Strange, Isn't It, how we can forget to see ourselves "as others see us"—then suddenly one day we realize that our hands are rough, red and old-looking. Well, no matter how busy we are, there's something we can do about that. In fact, it's so simple, I'm sure you'll want to try it right away. Simply smooth on JERGENS LOTION after every watery chore. Even those new chemical soaps can't permanently roughen hands that are protected by Jergens' way. You see, because Jergens Lotion is liquid, it quickly penetrates to supply the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. So remember—Jergens Lotion... because you care for your hands. Just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

Looking For A Delicious Way to give your family a quick start? Simply serve hot "CREAM-OF-WHEAT" with a big spoonful of thick, luscious strawberry jam folded in. Top with milk or cream. Delicious! Yes, and easy, too. You know, Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. And best of all, hot "Cream of Wheat" is truly good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So give your whole family—children and grown-ups too, a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them all to their favorite hot "Cream of Wheat".

Enthusiasm—lots of it—is what you'll get when you serve HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS to your family. Yes, all five kinds of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans... with Pork in Tomato Sauce; with Sliced Wieners; Boston Style or Heinz Red Kidney Beans... they're all family "favourites". And you'll like them because they're so easy to prepare. And so versatile. There are, literally, dozens of delicious ways to serve them. So keep a supply of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans on hand to please the family—and for a "quickie" meal when unexpected guests drop in. Heinz Beans make a wonderfully good, wonderfully economical meatless meal.

But I Paid That! Have you ever thought you'd paid for something you'd bought, and then received another bill for it? That kind of thing used to happen to me now and then... and it was always embarrassing and sometimes downright troublesome. That, of course, was when I used to run my finances on cash payments and wasn't too careful about my "book-keeping". But no more of that. Now, I pay for everything I possibly can by cheque and know exactly what's been paid at the end of the month when I pick up my cancelled cheques from my neighbourhood BANK OF MONTREAL branch. It's the simplest, yet most efficient way I know to keep track of my spending. Why not try it? Open a Chequing Account at your nearest branch of the BoM today. You'll find it a great help in keeping your finances in order.

You Can Take A Bow when your husband raves about his snow-white shirts. But give some of the credit to Blue—for Blue does the best job of all in keeping clothes from turning yellow. When you're rinsing your wash to get the clothes clean, simply put a dish of Blue in the water—to get them really white. Blue is safe for the fine fabrics in your wash. Those beautiful sheets you got for your anniversary the luncheon set that's your pride and joy... don't take chances—use Blue to keep them white. Costs just a few pennies a month—and that makes good sense, doesn't it?

Are You Letting a lack of knowledge about feminine hygiene take the glamour out of your marriage? Modern women who want a completely satisfactory method of feminine hygiene use ZONITORS. Zonitors are effective, graceful, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories—powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're so very dainty and convenient to use. Ask your druggist for Zonitors tomorrow... and write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for a free booklet giving important-to-know facts on feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

YWCA Work Important in World Of Today, English Visitor Says

There never was a time since its organization that the YWCA was of greater importance than it is today, Lady Walsh told a large gathering in the local "Y" Wednesday morning at a membership tea.

The speaker, active in YWCA work in England, is a visitor in Victoria after a tour of associations in Australia and New Zealand. She will visit associations across Canada before returning to the British Isles.

It was an emergency during the Crimean War that brought the YWCA to life, Lady Walsh told her audience. Florence Nightingale was trying to enlist young women to go to the war front with her as nurses. Parents were quite willing for daughters to go to Crimea but balked at the overnight stay in London alone.

ITS BEGINNING

"So a home was opened for their use during their stay in London," Lady Walsh said, "and from this beginning developed the YWCA which now has hostels in 70 countries, and is represented in the United Nations."

Ninety per cent of YWCA's in the British Isles are in industrial areas, she said, where housing is congested.

"Most homes are overcrowded, leaving nowhere for young people to study quietly. So, Y clubrooms are opened and they come to us even to do their homework."

Lady Walsh is particularly interested in the marriage counselling department in English YWCA's. "When it was instituted," she said, "it was intended

Evening Guild At Langford

At meeting of St. Matthew's Guild, held at the home of Mrs. W. T. Sims, Millstream Road, Langford, Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen, president, reported that an evening guild has been formed with the following officers: Mrs. Stanley Horner, president; Mrs. E. Gordon, vice-president; Mrs. G. Sherman, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. E. Welch, pianist.

The new organization will convene a candy and plant stall at the annual shamrock tea in St. Matthew's Hall, March 18.

Other stalls will be convened as follows: Mesdames G. Macgregor, J. Goulding and E. C. Braithwaite, plain and fancy work; Mesdames A. J. Ashdown and A. M. Baxter, home cooking; Mesdames H. A. Hicks and N. C. Stewart, contests, and Mesdames Sims and E. A. Williamson, tea.

A letter was read from Miss Josephine Seabrook, a former Langford girl, now a deaconess at Cardston, Alta. She described work among the Blackfoot Indian tribe on St. Paul's Reserve.

Lady Walsh, centre, a visitor in Victoria from England, with Mrs. S. J. Seats, left, and Mrs. W. Blair, members of the local YWCA board.

for engaged couples, then it was ship chairman of the board of directors of the Victoria "Y," welcomed guests to the annual membership coffee party and said it was hoped to double the local membership this year.

Mrs. H. J. Seats, president of the board, introduced Lady Walsh and Mrs. R. E. Foster, thanked her at close of the address.

The traveler found that in Australia the emphasis in "Y" work was with young women who had arrived in that country during war years in large numbers and were housed in "migrant camps." "The Y is trying to help them make contact with Australian homes," she said.

In New Zealand, the "Y" is acting as a leaving influence in the various communities, in conjunction with business and professional women, in combating a feeling New Zealanders have developed against foreigners.

"The YWCA is an adaptable association," Lady Walsh said in conclusion. "Its principles, which are universal, can be adapted to meet any local situation."

"The name, Young Women's Christian Association, may have a Victorian era sound but activities and methods of work have always kept pace with the times," Mrs. William Blair, member-

Mistress of Robes Is Classic English Beauty

LONDON (CP)—The Queen's choice as Mistress of the Robes is a dark-haired, classic beauty, the dowager Duchess of Devonshire.

Daughter of the fourth Marquis of Salisbury, the duchess is the widow of the 10th Duke of Devonshire, who died in 1930. Her job can loosely be described as "supervising the duties of the ladies of the household." She will be at the Queen's side on most ceremonial occasions.

The women serving a sovereign, largely descendants of ancient families, receive no special training. The duchess, whose late husband was a trainbearer at the coronation of George V., will however have plenty of family experience to draw on for guidance. Her mother-in-law, also a dowager Duchess of Devonshire, has been Mistress of the Robes to Queen Mary since 1910.

UNCERTAINTIES

"Canada is one of the few surplus-producing countries to which the world might look for increased food supplies. But producers here dare not risk all-out production because of their dependence on export markets, and the current uncertainty of those markets."

"Finances and family income are jeopardized, the continuity of production interrupted, and the hope of progressively expanding food production has become out of the question."

"In respect to thinking and acting co-operatively, national governments are far behind the times. They could well afford to take lessons from small communities and humble citizens in countries all over the world."

The three-day co-op union convention will end tonight after the election of a new slate of officers and discussion on 10 resolutions.

RECENTLY NAMED CCF

candidate for the Esquimalt-Saanich federal riding, R. M. McIntosh has been active with CCF since its inception, has been delegate to the CCF provincial council for seven years. Once a Cape Breton farmer (where he was born), he came to B.C. in time to go overseas with the 48th Battalion. Wounded in France he was discharged in 1919, married and settled at Elk Lake where he was a fruit farmer and carpenter until he retired. He has a married daughter in Vancouver, a son teaching school in Trail.

HUGE PLANT

OSLO (CP) — A group of Norwegian engineering firms has been awarded a contract to build a hydro-electric plant in Brazil to produce 100,000 kilowatts of energy. The station will be located about 320 miles northeast of Rio de Janeiro.

New Oak Bay School Opening 'Family Show'

It was family night out at the official opening of Oak Bay Junior High School Wednesday night.

The usual provincial, municipal and school board representatives were on hand to bring greetings and speak their piece.

But mainly the evening belonged to parents of children now at the school and accompanied by still younger children who will one day be students. They packed the shiningly bright auditorium and stood at the rear when all the seats were taken.

Ernest J. Costain, a teacher at Oak Bay High, and his wife were there for young Jamie, 13, was on the stage in the school choir. Danny, 3, Kevin, 4½, and Jennifer, 8, were also on hand to complete the family representation.

School trustee and vice-chairman of Greater Victoria School Board, Humphry Golby, asked the audience to look on the school as a "pivotal spot in Oak Bay."

"It can be the centre of this municipality which has long been without an auditorium."

Though the school is built to accommodate 600, it will be "clamoring for expansion in 1955," he said.

"The board will come to the public for another building program this year," continued Mr. Golby. "It seems almost inconceivable in the face of the recent tempest, but Greater Victoria is getting greater every day."

He contended that parents today who complain about the so-called "frills" of modern education are not driving "1932 Oldsmobiles or putting butter on the window-sill to cool."

"Think beyond the mill rate and folding doors to Canada's future citizens and support the board in its work," he urged.

Education Minister Tillie J. Rolston, before she cut the white ribbon to declare the school officially open, echoed Mr. Golby's hope that the school will be "a centre for the community."

"Education week has apparently lasted a month in B.C. and I don't think anything has excited so much interest," Mrs. Rolston said, referring to the recent controversy over the three R's and school system generally.

"We don't want square pegs in round holes; we want people to like the job they do," she said earnestly.

Principal R. T. Kipling told the audience the teachers already sensed "a spirit growing in the school." School Trustee A. J. de Bourcier introduced Mrs. Rolston.

The Arctic Ocean, covering about 5,500,000 square miles, is more than 12,000 feet deep in some parts.

Young Pianist Here Friday

Constance M. Voth, 17-year-old pianist of Winnipeg, will be heard in recital here on Friday at Newshead Hall, Fort Street, under the auspices of Victoria Branch, B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association in the Young Artists Series.

Miss Voth is a soloist of outstanding ability and experience. Her record, from the age of 12 is one of scholarship awards, festival successes and public performances. Among the scholarships she has won are the Women's Musical Club, the Registered Music Teachers' and the National Council of Jewish Women's awards. Last year she was successful in the Bach and concerto classes in the Manitoba Musical Festival and has appeared on two occasions with the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra. Miss Voth is a pupil of Leonard Heaton.

Tickets for this recital may be obtained from members of Victoria Branch of the B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association, the Victoria Music Centre, View Street, or by phoning G 2682.

A (Don't Miss) B (For Rainy Days)
C (To Put in Time)

(BB PLUS) "STOP, YOU'RE KILLING ME" (Capitol)—Here and there "Stop, You're Killing Me" is Damon Runyan at his best. The famed guys and dolls of Broadway carry out their murders in wholesale quantity with a dispassionate ease of mind and "all-in-the-day's-work" attitude that makes the late American story teller so immensely popular.

Really an adaptation of Runyan's hilarious "A Slight Case of Murder" this Warner Brothers' effort isn't quite in focus. Actually this is the fault of the characters. A general tightening up, a cutting of dialogue, would have helped the show immensely. To this reviewer "Stop, You're Killing Me" can never quite make up its mind whether it wants to be a musical, a gangster picture or a farce.

The plot, in brief: Broderick Crawford (exceptionally well cast) is a beer baron surrounded by gentle gunmen and thugs who do his bumping off for him and put the finger on this and that character more than somewhat. But with repeat and beer peddling becoming "legit" he, of course, goes out of business. From this opening the story shows the big, bull-necked gangster trying to go straight, to get his hands on enough cash to save his one asset, his brewery. Things aren't too easy for the ex-beer baron. There are four

Minister Cool to Gibbs' Effective Living Formula

Reeve P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay is a man with a formula... or so he told Education Minister Tillie Rolston and a capacity audience at the official opening of Oak Bay Junior High School Wednesday night.

"It's a formula for effective living, too, Madame Minister," he said turning to Mrs. Rolston. "I hope you will want to retire to Southern Vancouver Island in the not too distant future and I extend a hearty invitation from Oak Bay."

The proposal with the political overtones drew a laughing comment from the minister of education, but she trusted that her "retirement" was in the far distant future.

18-Year-Old Robber Caught

MT. ANGEL, Ore. (AP)—A youthful bandit made off with about $18,000 in a daylight bank robbery here Wednesday, but state police said they arrested a man and recovered the money five hours later. A state patrolman radioed that an 18-year-old boy was caught with the money at Mill City, about 40 miles southeast of here, on a road through the Cascade Range to eastern Oregon.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

In most respects there are no important differences between the health problems of adopted children and those who are not. There are, however, several problems connected with adoption, or questions concerning adoption which constantly crop up and which make a great deal of difference both to the child and to the adoptive parents.

First, and most important, the question of adoption usually comes up for couples who desire children but do not seem able to have any of their own. Furthermore, there are many infants or children who are deprived of normal family life by their parents' death or perhaps economic disaster, and who can be given their birthright of family life only if they are adopted.

Thus it is frequently desirable both from the standpoint of the child and of some married couples to join together and form a normal family unit of parents and child or children.

EASY TO SAY

It is perhaps too easy to decide, "Let's adopt a child." It cannot be emphasized too often that adoption is not a step which should be taken lightly.

The physical condition both of the prospective adopted child and of the prospective parents should be given serious consideration in advance if much grief is to be avoided.

Unhappily, the files of welfare agencies contain many instances in which an adopted child has some physical defect or disease which brings much unhappiness to the adoptive parents, and the reverse is also the case to such a degree that the couple making the adoption are unable to supply a reasonably satisfactory home life.

In other words, this column recommends that adoptions be made only with the best of advice from physicians and welfare agencies, since this would greatly increase the chances of suitable matching of the adoptive parents and the adopted child so that both would receive a good break towards happiness and health.

Two other questions concerning adoption frequently come up. One of them is whether an adopted child should be told that he or she is adopted.

TELL THEM EARLY

Most of those who have studied this think very definitely that a child should be told as early as he or she can understand it. If this is simply and kindly done there is not only no harm, but much good, accomplished.

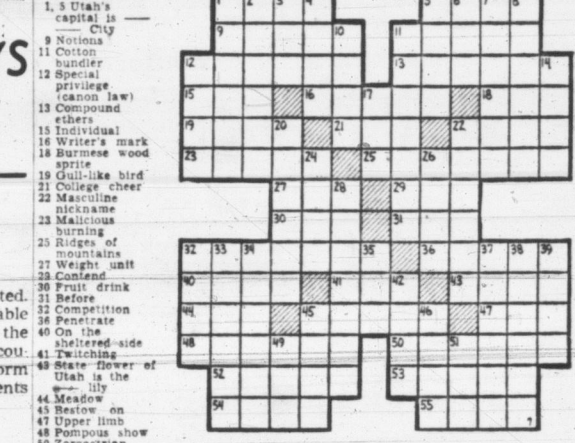

The second is whether a couple is more likely to have a natural child soon after an adoption.

I do not know of any statistics on this, though there are certainly many instances in which a couple has gone childless for many years, adopted a child and then shortly thereafter had one of their own. If there is any connection between these two events rather than pure accident, it is certainly hard to explain on physiological grounds.

BULLETINSCriminal Negligence Charge
Laid in Highway Death Case

Robert Gordon Gregory-Allen, 316 Simpson, already charged with failing to put flares on the highway near his parked truck at the spot where Mrs. Eva Mitchell of Cordova Bay met her death Feb. 25, was arraigned on a second charge today... criminal negligence.

He was remanded without plea to March 19 in Saanich court this afternoon.

Preliminary hearing of Harry G. Mills, Prospect Lake, charged with manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Mitchell, commenced in the same court.

Mills was the driver of a car which struck the parked truck on Blenkinsop Road, as a result of which Mrs. Mitchell died.

All Alberta Now Quarantined—Rabies

EDMONTON (CP)—A federal order today extended the rabies quarantine area to take in all of Alberta. Previously the quarantine, which prohibits dogs from being allowed to run at large, covered only the northern part of the province to a line 20 miles south of Edmonton.

"The entire province now is under restrictive quarantine," said Dr. K. F. Wells of Ottawa, chief veterinarian of the health of animals division of the federal agriculture department. "All dogs must be controlled or tied up."

B.C. Passenger Fare Case Completed

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's battle for equality in passenger train rates ended here with C. W. Brazier, representing the B.C. government, telling the Board of Transport Commissioners:

"It's not that we don't trust the railroads... but we must keep our eyes open."

St. Laurent to Visit
Washington May 7-9

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada is planning an official visit to Washington May 7-9 to discuss "matters of mutual interest," it was learned today.

Authorities look for a general review of current matters of concern to Canada, such as the St. Lawrence River seaway, power development and the future course of U.S. trade and foreign policies.

BUTLER ARRIVES

OTTAWA (BUP)—Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, arrived today for a two-day round of conferences with Finance Minister D. C. Abbott on long-range plans to make international trade flow more easily across the Atlantic.

Abbott greeted Butler at the Rockcliffe airport and conferred with him later in the day.

Butler's schedule also called for high-level conferences with Abbott again and with Trade Minister C. D. Howe.

The chancellor, fresh from conferences with U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, George M. Humphrey and other Washington officials, was expected to bring the Canadian government up to date on plans launched last January in London to ease currency and trade restrictions.

The plans were described by government officials as part of a long-range project which may have no dramatic turn to them for another six months or more.

There were expectations, however, that some easing of trade and currency restrictions might be made during the summer.

Propeller-Driven Lincoln No Match for Soviet Jets

Plane pictured above is RAF Lincoln similar to that shot down by new Soviet jet fighters over West Germany. Although tiny jet interceptor force in Western Europe will be bolstered soon with 150 of fastest F-86 Sabre fighters yet developed, force has no immediate prospect of matching numbers of Russian fighters on frontier. New type are F-86F's now in RCAF units. Mounting six .50-calibre guns and carrying 16 five-inch rockets, they outspeed models now downing Migs in Korea at rate of 11 to 1.

Appears Today

American negro boxer Charles Mathews was to appear in the Vancouver police court today for a preliminary hearing on a charge that he murdered 40-year-old Mrs. Los Angeles Ann Smith in her east-end Vancouver home last week. The 20-year-old Mathews, known in the ring as "Young Sonny" Jones, is alleged to have strangled Mrs. Smith. He also is accused of assaulting Mrs. Alan Wallberg in the same house.

Closing Prices

Stocks were steady in moderate turnover at Vancouver Exchange in the final session today and price changes mostly were limited to fractions. Western Tungsten traded at $1.35; Quatsino 40c; Pacific Nickel $1.05; Estella 69c and Beaver Lodge $1.50.

Straith Scores Kiernan Tactics On Milk Control

Use of Telegrams Termed
'Mean, Miserable, Unfair'

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan was charged by Liberal whip W. T. Straith in the Legislature Wednesday with using "mean, miserable and unfair" tactics in a debate on decontrol of milk prices.

WHAT WAS WRONG?

FARRIS SAYS SON IN MILK BUSINESS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senator J. W. de B. Farris today said Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan "must be hard put for arguments" when he disclosed a 14-month-old telegram dealing with a milk decontrol protest.

Documents were filed by Mr. Kiernan in the Legislature Wednesday purporting to show that the previous Liberal government scrapped plans to decontrol milk prices after protests from Senator Farris.

The telegram produced by Mr. Kiernan quoted Senator Farris as saying he had a "large personal interest in the matter."

In a statement here, Senator Farris said: "My personal interest at that time, January, 1952, was that my son was in the milk business. I wired a protest of the milk board's order and asked for an opportunity to be heard before the order was ratified."

"What was wrong with that? I do not know. Kiernan must be hard put for arguments."

St. Laurent to Visit Washington May 7-9

U.K. Chancellor Arrived in Ottawa Today
To Inform Canadian Government on Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada is planning an official visit to Washington May 7-9 to discuss "matters of mutual interest," it was learned today.

Authorities look for a general review of current matters of concern to Canada, such as the St. Lawrence River seaway, power development and the future course of U.S. trade and foreign policies.

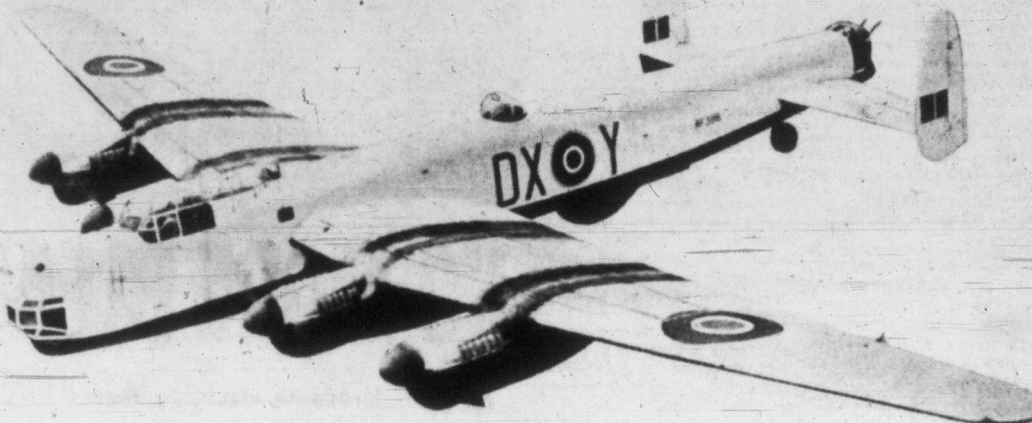

BUTLER ARRIVES

OTTAWA (BUP)—Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, arrived today for a two-day round of conferences with Finance Minister D. C. Abbott on long-range plans to make international trade flow more easily across the Atlantic.

Abbott greeted Butler at Rockcliffe airport and conferred with him later in the day.

Propellor-Driven Lincoln No Match for Soviet Jets

Plane pictured above is RAF Lincoln similar to that shot down by new Soviet jet fighters over West Germany. Although tiny jet interceptor force in Western Europe will be bolstered soon with 150 of fastest F-86 Sabre fighters yet developed, force has no immediate prospect of matching numbers of Russian fighters on frontier. New type are F-86F's now in RCAF units. Mounting six .50-calibre guns and carrying 16 five-inch rockets, they outspeed models now downing MIGs in Korea at rate of 11 to 1.

800 Strike On Trail Dam Job

$30,000,000
Project Delayed

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—A sympathy strike of 800 workers on the $30,000,000 Wanaeta dam project was called today as pickets patrolled the big construction job.

The walkout was ordered following failure to settle a dispute of 300 workers on the $9,000,000 fertilizer plant at Kimberley.

Both projects are under construction by contractors Stone & Webster for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Ltd. of Canada.

A 12-man maintenance crew was permitted through picket lines at Wanaeta to keep electric pumps in operation. The pumps keep water from leaking into coffer dams.

PICKET OFFICES

Hundreds of men milled around the offices at the Wanaeta dam and pickets carried placards reading "Stone-Webster unfair to labor."

The workers at Kimberley project struck in a dispute over interpretation of a contract clause relating to travel time and return fares to hiring points.

A spokesman for Stone & Webster termed the strike "illegal" and said negotiations will not be reopened until the men return to work. The contractors asked the B.C. Labor Board to order the men back to work.

Five AFL building trade unions are involved.

1,000 HEAR INSURANCE CHARGE

Paid $100-$200 to Fines During Regina Car Ride, Ex-Agent Says

REGINA (CP)—J. O. Rawluk, former agent for the Saskatchewan government insurance office, told the legislative crown corporations committee Wednesday night that he paid $100 to $200 to Provincial Treasurer Fines during a car ride in Regina in 1951.

An affidavit sworn by Mr. Rawluk last May alleges that Mr. Fines and M. F. Allure, general manager of the Saskatchewan government insurance office, were paid a share of the commissions on insurance business directed through Mr. Rawluk's firm by Mr. Allure.

Mr. Rawluk, under questioning by E. C. Leslie, counsel for the committee, related a 1951 ride in Mr. Fines' car.

Mr. Leslie: Where did you have the money?

Mr. Rawluk: In my briefcase in an envelope.

Mr. Leslie: What was the conversation?

Mr. Rawluk: Very simple. I said "Hello" and he said "Hello." He asked me how far I was going. I said I was going to the office in Westman Chambers. I got to the corridor. That just about covers it as far as the conversation goes.

Mr. Leslie: When did you hand over the money?

Mr. Rawluk: Between Cornwall and Rose Streets while riding down 11th Avenue.

Mr. Leslie: Did Mr. Fines say "thanks"?

Mr. Rawluk: He said "thank you. That's it."

Mr. Leslie asked if Mr. Rawluk knew of any other agencies which made "kickbacks." Mr. Rawluk said no and had never inquired. He acknowledged that Financial Agencies Ltd., of which he was manager, is among the smallest of the Regina agencies.

Local insurance officials said today that sales of car insurance policies by mail order will eliminate agents' commissions, estimated at 20 per cent, and will result in cheaper coverage.

NOT NEW

"All-State has been operating in Canada for some time," one executive pointed out, "but apparently they intend to step up operations in line with retail expansion of the parent firm."

He doubted, however, that cheaper policies offered by All-State will solve the basic problem of high insurance costs for the general motoring public in Canada.

"They only take the best risks," he explained. "They refuse younger drivers and older people and drivers with poor records. Meanwhile, somebody has to cover these motorists. But it will be harder than ever to provide coverage with All-State skimming the cream of the car insurance business."

MUST HAVE AGENT

Referring to the possibility of mail-order sales of car insurance in B.C., provincial government officials said today it will still be necessary for the company to have representatives in B.C.

"The insurance act says policies must be signed by a resident agent," an official said.

Emergency Meeting Of U.K. Cabinet Drafts Strong Note

LONDON (AP)—The foreign office tonight instructed the British high commissioner in Germany to lodge a protest with the Russians against the shooting down of a British bomber earlier today.

The foreign office earlier confirmed that an RAF Lincoln bomber had been shot down in Germany by jet fighters, identified by eyewitnesses as Soviet MIGs.

The foreign office said it was "far too early to decide" if the incident shows a new pattern of Russian tactics lined with Stalin's death.

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters today shot down a four-engine British bomber near the Soviet frontier between the British and Russian zones of Germany. It was the second attack on Western planes in two days.

The pilot of the RAF Lincoln bomber attacked today survived and was taken injured to a German hospital, but at least four British airmen were killed. Three bodies were found near the wreckage, which landed mostly in this town in the British zone. The navigator, a bullet wound in his shoulder, died of a broken neck en route to hospital. Parts of the wreckage were reported to have fallen across the Elbe River in Communist-controlled territory. German eyewitnesses said the attacking planes definitely encroached upon the air of Western Germany.

Two bursts of machine-gun fire were heard and then the bomber blew up, a British official said.

Second Violation in Two Days

It was the second violation of frontiers in two days. On Tuesday Soviet-built MIG-15s attacked two American jet fighters in an area 300 miles south of today's incident. One U.S. jet pilot was shot down but he parachuted safely to earth.

The plane shot down today was a four-engine bomber, the British foreign office said.

It was an RAF Lincoln, a propeller-driven Second World War type that is no match for jets. Such planes usually carry a crew of seven. The foreign office said three men bailed out and one later died. This would mean five men died in the attack, if the plane was carrying all seven crew.

The foreign office spokesman told reporters in London that the attack took place over Blackede, just within the British zone of Germany. British troops were posted around the wreckage.

The British plane was attacked by two fighters as it flew westward, apparently from Berlin toward west Germany through one of the narrow air corridors which Allied planes are required to follow over Soviet-occupied east Germany.

It fell just across the border inside east Germany near the Elbe River town of Boizenburg.

U.S. Relations With Russia Seen Strained

BY PHIL NEWSOM

United States and Russian relations have been put to an earlier test than might have been expected after the death of Stalin.

Stiff diplomatic notes so far have been the only result. So far as the United States is concerned—based on the Eisenhower administration's early performance—the attitude now may be expected to find ways and means still to be determined.

One immediate result might be to put F-86 Sabre jets—nemesis of the MIG in Korea—on patrol along the Czech border instead of the weaker F-84 or Thunderjet. In any event, to bring about a clear restatement of policy that we will meet force with force.

The present period of uncertainty has been compared to Hitler's period of reckless expansion which led to the Second World War. However, there are important differences.

Hitler gambled on the premise that the Allies would not fight. The Russians, especially after Korea and Berlin, can be under no such illusions.

U.S. Backs Romulo For UN Post

United Nations, N.Y. (UP)—The United States grouped its forces behind Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines today in preparation for the first ballot in the United Nations' Security Council for selection of a new secretary-general.

Russia nominated Polish Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzyszewski and Denmark, seconded by Britain, proposed General Assembly President Lester B. Pearson of Canada.

Immediate opinion on the couple's attempts to take the child "until I know a great deal more about it."

Porter added, however, that "generally speaking a mother can put her child into the hands of anyone she chooses."

Bower said the young mother had not admitted the child to hospital and because there had been considerable publicity attracted to the case he wanted to "play safe" and keep the baby. He said that when police delivered the baby to the hospital 10 days ago it was "legally abandoned."

The Swinders had planned to return to New York Wednesday, but stayed over after the baby's teen-aged mother gave her consent to give them the infant.

"The development was the latest in the case which had seen the Shinders suspected of being members of an international baby-selling ring believed operating between Toronto and New York.

Dr. Joseph S. Chaikoff, also charged with fraud in making out the baby's birth certificate, was released later Wednesday on $2,000 bail, and Magistrate C. A. Thoburn said he would deliver judgment March 18th.

The Shinders' attorney, Louis Herman, said he would accompany them to the Children's Aid Society today in an effort to convince officials that the baby would receive proper care from the Brooklyn couple.

At Buffalo, N.Y., U.S. immigration inspector Arthur J. Karnuth said he would stop the Swinders from entering the United States if they have the child unless the couple receives clearance from the American consulate in Toronto.

YOUNG UNWED MOTHER GIVES CONSENT

N.Y. Couple Moves to Adopt Canadian 'Smuggled' Infant

TORONTO (BUP)—A Brooklyn couple who tried to smuggle a baby across the border moved today to adopt the boy.

Edith and Jack Shinder, both 29, visited the child at the Sick Children's Hospital Wednesday night. They were accompanied by the unmarried 15-year-old mother who gave her written consent for them to take him.

Hospital superintendent J. Bower said he could not take the responsibility for releasing the baby, however, even though police said they had "no objections" as the Shinders had been "cleared of criminal charges."

Shinder, a haberdashery salesman, was fined $150 two days ago after pleading guilty to taking a birth certificate for the baby. The same charge against his wife was withdrawn.

Attorney-General Dana Porter wasn't prepared to give an
